

No Policy Change By Resignation Of Brownell

President Names
William Rogers to Justice Dep't Post

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower's choice of William P. Rogers to succeed Herbert Brownell Jr. as Attorney General portends no change in the Justice Department's firm civil rights policy, informed sources said today.

But the surprise White House announcement had Washington buzzing with speculation as to the possible significance of the shift.

Brownell, who will bow out as the administration's top law enforcement officer around the second week in November, disavowed any political ambitions. He said he will rejoin his former law firm of Lord, Day and Lord of New York City.

Once in private life, however, he would be free to resume his role as former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's political strategist—or his own.

Gained Politically

Brownell has become a political figure in his own right by reason of his close identification with the administration's civil rights bill and enforcement policy — notably sending troops to Little Rock, Ark.

That might tempt him into New York state politics as a candidate for governor or the U. S. Senate.

Rogers, who at 44 will be the youngest member of the Eisenhower cabinet, is a close personal and political friend of Nixon. His presence on the Eisenhower "team" will give Nixon a "friend in court."

Brownell's resignation came with thunderclap surprise to Washington although there has been speculation most of the President's original cabinet would drop out during his second term.

Third To Resign

His departure is the third cabinet resignation during the current presidential term, the others being Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

There are now only four members of the original Eisenhower cabinet left — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks and Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield. There has been speculation Dulles will also retire sometime in the near future, but nothing firm has developed.

Denies PMWA Will Rejoin UMW

Harry Gee of Carrier Mills, board member of Subdistrict 11, Progressive Mine Workers of America, today said that contrary to some talk, the PMWA was not planning to rejoin the United Mine Workers.

He said rumors of rejoining followed the transfer of allegiance from the PMWA to the UMW of Midwest Radiant and St. Ellen coal mine employees, and explained the transfer as follows:

The two St. Clair county unions formerly worked for individual coal companies as Progressive Mine Workers but that about six months ago the Peabody Coal Co. purchased both the mines.

Peabody, he continued, has a master contract with the UMW with a clause in the contract that neither Peabody nor its subsidiaries will operate any mine unless the employees of that mine are represented by the United Mine Workers.

He said about three months ago both mines closed for a period and there were rumors they would never open again as long as the PMWA was bargaining agent. The mines later reopened and the miners eventually voted to transfer unions to save their jobs.

He said in the meantime the PMWA has filed "unfair labor practice" charges against the employers.

Flu Outbreaks Close 8 Schools In Chicago Area

Visitors Barred
From 25 State
Welfare Institutions

By United Press

Flu outbreaks today prompted eight schools in Chicago's suburbs to shut down.

Visitors, meanwhile, were barred from the state's 25 public welfare institutions in an all-out effort to limit the spread of respiratory diseases.

The influenza epidemic, respiratory ailments and complications already have claimed 17 lives in Illinois.

Marion Jordan, district superintendent in the Palatine-Rolling Meadows area of Cook County, said he ordered seven schools closed today because student absenteeism and the cost of substitute teachers has been a financial burden.

"About one-fourth of our pupils and teachers have been out recently," he said. "We lose about $1 a day for every child absent."

With 1,000 pupils absent Wednesday, for example, we simply can't afford to stay open," Jordan's action affects about 3,800 students.

The eighth school closed is in Volo, where one-third of the 100 students are down with illness.

In announcing the unprecedented move in the state welfare institutions, Welfare Director Dr. Otto Bettag said doors would not be reopened to visitors until all 50,000 patients received Asian flu shots.

The death toll now 10 at the Dixon State School for the Mentally Retarded, where 45 per cent of the inmate population has been hit with flu and its after effects.

* Seven patients of the 1,082 confined to bed at Dixon are reported to be in serious condition.

NATION'S FLU TOLL APPROACHES 300 MARK

Deaths from flu or its complications approached 300 in the United States Thursday and a government agency reported that perhaps a million or more new cases of flu or influenza-like diseases occurred last week.

Throughout the nation, United Press counted 290 deaths blamed on flu and its complications since last summer when the first case of Asian flu was confirmed in the country.

Quit 'Disorganizing' Work

Labor Spy Says He Threatened
Families While Employee of Shefferman

WASHINGTON (UP) — A self-confessed labor spy said today he quit union "disorganizing" work for Nathan W. Shefferman's labor-relations firm because "they were just too vicious for me."

The witness was Charles Littell of Marion, Ohio. He told the Senate Rackets Committee that on orders of a Shefferman employee he used to spy on fellow workers at the Marion plant of the Whirlpool Corp. and threaten their families if they did not cease union activity.

Littell, a slim, crew-cut man in his 30's, said, "I guess if I had to face it" he would call himself a labor spy, and a cheap one at that.

He said that for $20 a week he worked with Dr. Louis Checov, an "industrial psychologist" on Shefferman's staff, to keep any union out of the Marion plant. He said he formed a "spontaneous" committee of anti-union workers, reported to management on the union sentiments of fellow workers, and threatened them with loss of their jobs if they supported the union.

The committee is investigating activities of Shefferman, labor relations adviser to some 300 firms across the nation, who was termed "a notorious union buster" by Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D. Ark.) said Wednesday that Checov is in Vancouver, Canada, and refuses to return to testify.

The committee said Checov told an investigator in Vancouver that Shefferman hustled him out of the country so he would not be a witness in an unfair labor practices case growing out of Littell's discharge.

Whirlpool officials denied any knowledge of a committee designed to keep the UAW out of the Marion plant. But they conceded that after haggling they paid Checov's heavy expense vouchers for food and drink for committee members.

Atmosphere of Optimism in Eisenhower-Macmillan Talks

WASHINGTON (UP)—British and U. S. leaders expressed satisfaction today with the progress of talks between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The top-level conferences resumed at the White House in an atmosphere of optimism colored by a sudden burst of U. S. military achievements, including a 1,000, 4,000 mile rocket shoot.

Diplomatic sources reported that the two leaders are considering asking other nations to join in pooling scientific-military information in the East-West race for nuclear and space superiority.

Eisenhower and Macmillan began their talks on scientific unity and other global problems Wednesday night.

Macmillan promptly agreed. Close attention is being paid to the war-jittery Middle East and a careful review of Soviet intentions around the globe, as well as the issue of East-West military and scientific supremacy.

May Discuss Red Move
Russia's decision to send one of its top military commanders to take charge of Soviet troops on the Russian-Turkish border, announced Wednesday, was considered likely to come up in the discussions. British diplomats were reported gravely concerned about appointment of Red Army Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky to what previously was deemed a minor border post.

The dramatic firing of the Air Force rocket to 1,000-4,000 miles over the Pacific was almost certain to create a new surge of optimism in the ability of the United States and the West to match or outstrip Russia in the race for space supremacy.

Added to this was other announcements of new U. S. strides in the modern weapons field. These included the successful testing of a 1,500-mile Jupiter missile, disclosure of an atomic depth charge for combatting Soviet submarines and the test firing of a Vanguard missile which eventually will carry a U. S. satellite into space.

Italian Police Rescue Jayne Mansfield From Mob of Fans

MILAN, Italy (UP) — Italian riot police rescued Hollywood's Jayne Mansfield, trembling and barefoot, from a mob of fans early today and sped her in a red jeep to the seclusion of a plush nightclub.

The near riot in which fans made off with her $1,000 diamond studded garter and her matching gold earrings climaxed a hectic day.

Noted Fashion Czar Christian Dior Dies at 52

MONTECATINI TERME, Italy (UP)—Christian Dior, the mild-mannered fashion czar whose merest whim could change hemlines for ten million women died of a heart attack shortly before midnight Wednesday night.

The 32-year-old bachelor rose to his greatest fame shortly after the war when he unveiled the long-skirted "new look" that substituted what he called the "peace-time grace and charm of a woman in a long skirt" for the knee-length dresses of World War II.

He remained at the top of the rarefied world of "haute couture"—the high style that made Paris synonymous with fashion. He did it with succeeding "A" looks, "H" looks and this year's new "Sack look" which puts women in a formless, beltless garment that also is known as the "Gunnysack look."

Dior was visiting this famed spa near Pisa with four men friends and was stricken shortly after dinner. He returned to his room at the luxurious Hotel De La Paix and died a few minutes before midnight.

The success of his dictates to women reportedly brought him a seven million dollar annual business and a $75,000 annual income.

A Future Homemakers of America House of Delegates meeting, attended by 250 persons, was held yesterday and last night at Harrisburg Township high school with the Harrisburg FHA chapter the host.

It was a sectional meeting, with officers, chapter mothers and teachers from 25 high school chapters in Section 3 attending.

Also present was Miss Druanne Davis of Springfield, state FHA adviser.

During the meeting the Harrisburg FHA chapter received two honors. It was judged the Honor Chapter and also received the International Good Will Award.

The meeting started at 4 p. m. with a program in B Assembly. Following the recitation of the Creed and the singing of the state FHA song, there were remarks of welcome by Eltis Henson, HTHS principal.

Next came introduction of section officers after which Miss Davis was introduced and presented a corsage of red roses.

Exact Height Of Missile Still Undetermined

Triggered by Air Force from Balloon Platform

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States has taken man's highest known step yet in the race to the moon—stabbing a rocket an estimated 1,000-4,000 miles or more into space.

Precisely how high the slender multi-stage missile probed into the unknown won't be determined until calculations are completed, possibly Friday. But Air Force scientists believe it soared 1,000 to 4,000 miles or more, easily outdistancing Russia's earth satellite or any other known projectile ever sent aloft by man.

The rocket, it was disclosed Wednesday night, was triggered Monday by the Air Force operation "Farside" from a balloon-supported platform 20 miles high over Eniwetok Atoll in the Pacific to help it escape the earth's atmosphere.

While a considerable feat, experts said today Farside ranks distinctly below Russia's achievement in hurling a satellite into orbit around the globe. Neither does it mean necessarily the United States has leaped in front in the race to develop long-range missiles carrying H-bomb warheads.

Aid To Free World

Perhaps Farside's biggest initial significance is in giving the free world a strong psychological boost toward overcoming Russia's scientific gains apparent in its Sputnik.

U. S. efforts to launch the long-planned Farside rocket apparently were drastically stepped up following the Sputnik launching Oct. 4. It was reported Monday's successful launching was considered so important the Pentagon hoped to have exact data available for De-

Hilarious Response To First Showing Of Elks Minstrel

There was hilarious response to the Wednesday night showing of the annual Elks minstrel and revue at the Grand theatre.

The comedy was great and the music and dancing was excellent. Many said they believed the revue was the best that has been presented in Harrisburg.

The show was presented free of charge to school children yesterday afternoon as the participants went through a dress rehearsal and there was a good-sized crowd on hand for the presentation last night.

Tonight will be the last night of the show. Curtain time is 8:15 and tickets will be available at the door.

'How Are the Mighty Fallen'

A sad by-product of the world's furore over the Soviet man-made satellite was reflected recently in the wry comment of a British scientist, Dr. D. C. Martin.

He said Britain lacks the resources to take part in the competitive contest for supremacy in the earth satellite field. As a consequence,
he added, the British will have to content themselves with monitoring the movements of other nations' artificial "moons."

It is hard to realize that this is a voice from the once all-powerful British Empire, which reached to the corners of the earth and swept the seas clear of hostile foes.

Thus the empire, once dominant
on the field of power, is reduced to a kind of umpire—counting the balls and strikes of other players

"Ach, I Feel Conspicuous"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Prince Philip Really Knew His
Onions; British Don't Want U.
S. Too Close To USSR; Mac-
Millan Doesn't Fancy Zhukov.
Eisenhower Conference.

WASHINGTON. — With the Queen and her prince back in England, the nation's capital has settled down to the problems of Sputnik, and red tape. Still buzzing through social Washington are tales of the royal couple, especially Prince Philip's amazing
memory.

As he stood in the reception line
at the British embassy garden party, greeting 2,000 guests, he asked casual questions about where guests came from, what they did.

"What do you do?" he asked Peter Strauss, son of Nathan Strauss, housing commissioner
during the New Deal.

"I work for the ILO," replied
Strauss.

Probably not more than half a dozen people among the 2,000 who passed through the line would have known that ILO stood for International Labor Office; nor would have known where its offices were nor its head. But the prince knew.

"Do you work in Geneva or

Washington?" he asked referring to the ILO's two chief offices.

"In Geneva."

"Then you must work for Morse," observed Prince Philip,
referring to David Morse, head of the International Labor Office.

FEAR USA-USSR ALLIANCE

One reason for Prime Minister
MacMillan's anxiety to confer with President Eisenhower immediately rather than wait until next winter was to head off an Eisenhower conference with Marshal Zhukov.

An Eisenhower-Zhukov conference, the British fear, might pave
the way for a sort of American-Russian understanding regarding various parts of the world, which would leave the other NATO allies in the cold.

This spectre of a close Russian-
American understanding has hung over the British ever since the war years, has sometimes given them diplomatic heebie jeebies. It began during the war when Stalin proposed to Churchill and Roosevelt that there be a division of the Balkans; Britain having a sphere
of influence over Greece and Yugoslavia, Russia taking Bulgaria
and Rumania. Significantly, Russia has now bitten off exactly the same two countries Stalin wanted
—Bulgaria and Rumania.

Also during the war, Stalin proposed that Russia take a sphere
of influence over Asia; the United States over all Latin America.
Roosevelt said no. The Kremlin,
however, has proceeded to bring a good slice of Asia under its Red wing, anyway.

Latterly, repeated noises have been coming out of Moscow, suggesting that the USA and USSR
could decide the world's problems
if they operated face-to-face.

This was suggested during last summer's disarmament talks;
again more pointedly during the worsening Near East crisis.

So far Secretary Dulles has spurned Moscow's overtures. Some of his advisers, however, plus
many American military men, think the United States might make real strides for peace by talking to Russia direct—without deserting our allies.

ABSENT AMBASSADOR

Congressman John Blatnik of Minnesota came back from Yugoslavia the other day where he found that, despite momentous events, the United States lacked either an ambassador or a No. 2 man on the job.

The ambassador, Jimmie Riddinger, has been in Washington, sitting on a board to decide on the promotion of career diplomats. The counsel of embassy,
Norris Chipman, recently died.

In the interim, Tito had a vitally important visit from Marshal
Zhukov, commander of the Red Army and the man who will probably succeed Khrushchev. No
top U. S. diplomats were on hand to report back to Washington.

Meanwhile, also, Yugoslavia decided to recognize East Germany, thereby causing West Germany to break diplomatic relations. No American ambassador was on deck in Belgrade to make Tito
realize the consequences.

Blatnik found out from his own
sources that Tito was at his hunting lodge preparing an important statement. The unmanned embassy assured him, however, that Tito was simply hunting.

It turned out that the congressman, who had been in the country
only a few days, was better informed than the American embassy. Shortly thereafter, Tito released an important statement

declaring Yugoslavia's intention to recognize East Germany.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

You cannot hate the person you know. You may not completely agree with another person, but there are no two people who agree on everything. Hating comes from magnifying disagreement.
It develops from not knowing the whole person, his problems, his kindness, his charity, his hardships, his conflicts and his frustrations.

When we start to list a few of the items which make up one's character we find that the roster is surprisingly long. We overlook many of these human details of the individual whom we think we hate. There is so much missing from our knowledge about those we detest that we really do not have even a profile of the individual in our minds.

God has all the facts about us.
He knows us all completely. That must be the reason for His loving mankind. He hates our sins but He loves us enough save our souls.

Wesleyan Service Guild Holds Program on Brotherhood of Races

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist church met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Capitola Melton, 606 East Poplar street.

The Rev. W. L. Cummins had been invited to speak before the Guild and he chose to read the Dr. Phillips translation of the 10th chapter of Acts. He said the story related in this passage of the New Testament was the best instance of "race prejudice" anyone could find. His theme of thought was on the church and one race, that God is no respecter of persons and that we should not think of man as being common or unequal. He concluded his talk by challenging the Christian people to do something constructive toward the brotherhood of all races instead of just passively thinking about it.

Miss Bernice Patterson gave the devotional thought on "Am I my brother's keeper," and related a most vivid story to illustrate her thought.

Mrs. Ray Johnson read the Charter of Racial Policies drawn by the Woman's Society of Christian Service and following the complete reading the Guild moved to adopt it.

Attention was called to the Week of Prayer and Self-Denial to be Oct. 25 through 31st. The Guild also moved to contribute to the Church Extension advance gifts and also to McKendree College.

Mrs. C. L. Travis, who is the coordinator of the Guild and the WSCS, gave an interesting report of what the WSCS had accomplished in the past year.

After the adjournment of the business, refreshments were served by Mrs. Melton, assisted by Mrs. Mary Jane Rice and Miss Mary Richardson.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

The fall season is with us again and it brings with it a continuation of fewer daylight hours.

Rush hour traffic will call for special alertness on the part of motorists. It should be of assistance to you if you remember that the other motorists and pedestrians have just as difficult a time seeing as you do.

In order to insure yourself sufficient time to reach your destination, if you travel in the morning rush hour, leave five or ten minutes earlier than you would during the spring or summer months. That short a period of lost sleep may well result in the saving of your life and the lives of others.

And on the way home at night, remember that arriving at your destination a little later than you had been in the previous months is much better than not arriving at all, or, than arriving at a hospital as a patient.

Circuit Courts

The United States is divided into ten circuit court districts to cover the United States, Alaska, Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

STREAMLINED—Don't be surprised if that U. S. Savings Bond you buy from now on looks and feels a little different—it's just been streamlined. The new smaller bond is going to have more punch. In fact it has 13 punches—all of which mean something to the Treasury Department. In addition to the smaller size printing saving the taxpayer $500,000 a year, it might also prevent some of those washing machine tragedies, caused when the fellows had to fold the old bond, then forgot to remove it from a shirt pocket. The new bond is 7 3/4 x 3 1/4 inches.

No Appeals from Justice Handed Out by SIU Junior Girl JP

By SAM HANCOCK United Press Staff Correspondent CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — The brand of silk-stocking justice administered by Pa. Dwyer has drawn no bees.

The pretty 21-year-old college junior who is Illinois' youngest woman justice of the peace hasn't had a single appeal or request for a change of venue from her court during her six months in office.

Pat was one of the three Republican JP candidates chosen at a party caucus. That meant she was a "shoo-in" for election in GOP-dominated Carbondale in April.

"My entire campaign expense consisted of about a dollar for coffee and doughnuts. Besides, I couldn't afford to spend any more," she said.

Dunks Do Double-Task Pat is a pre-law student at Southern Illinois University. She's also a secretary to Carbondale attorney John Lannin.

She conducts court in his office and at home "during all hours of the day and night."

Her name throws some justice seekers. She often has callers for "Mr. Pat Dwyer."

Drunks brought before her without any advance tip-off by police do a quick double-take when they see Judge Dwyer.

Pat became interested in government and legal work through her grandfather, the late Leo I. Dwyer, former Carbondale mayor and police magistrate.

Bull Dogs to Play Carbondale Terriers at Homecoming Friday

The Carbondale Terriers, who meet the Harrisburg Bull Dogs in the annual Homecoming football game at Taylor Field Friday night starting at 7:30, have snapped out of the doldrums to win their last two contests by decisive margins.

The Terriers, who dropped their first four games, last week downed Pinckneyville 41 to 13 and the week before blasted Chester 31 to 6. Prior to that the Jackson county boys lost 27 to 0 to West Frankfort, 12 to 7 to Metropolis, 13 to 0 to Anna and 44 to 12 to Sparta.

So the 2-4 record looks formidable as far as the Bull Dogs are concerned.

For the record, the Bull Dogs dropped their opener 7-0 to Murphysboro and after nosing out

Marion 6-0 have lost 56-6 to Eldorado, 13-6 to Mt. Vernon, 48-0 to Centralia and 41-6 to Herrin.

It will be a non-conference game as Carbondale belongs to the Southwest Egyptian league and Harrisburg to the South Seven.

At present Herrin, which conquered the Bull Dogs last week, are leading the South Seven conference with three wins, no losses and a tie, followed closely by Centralia with 2-0-1. The two schools tied when they met this year.

Herrin will be facing a tough opponent this week when the Tigers travel to West Frankfort and Centralia should do pretty well as it pleases at Marion. In the other conference game Mt. Vernon will be at Benton.

Herrin has been rolling fast lately with decisive wins of 45-6 over Chester, 52-6 over Benton and 41-6 over Harrisburg its last three outings. Charles Bona, who had not figured greatly in the Tiger offense previously, got away for four touchdowns against Harrisburg and now joins Jim Gualdoni and Willie Williams as dangerous backfield threats.

Conference standings:

Team	W	L	T
Herrin	3	0	1
Centralia	2	0	1
Mt. Vernon	3	1	0
West Frankfort	1	1	0
Benton	1	2	0
Harrisburg	1	3	0
Marion	0	4	0

Auburn Tops In Grid Defense

NEW YORK — The Auburn Tigers, belying the tradition of Southern hospitality, continue as the stingiest group among the nation's major college football teams.

Undefeated Auburn has yielded an average of 157.8 yards a game to rank as the total defense leader for the second straight week. The Tigers, who have allowed just one touchdown all season, also rate second to Iowa in defense against running plays.

Oklahoma State and Navy are tied for second in total defense with identical 168.8 yard averages per game. Princeton and Miami of Florida are close behind.

Iowa, in taking the lead in rushing defense, has allowed its opponents an average 58.5 yards on the ground. Georgia Tech tops the nation's colleges in pass defense, having permitted 30.8 air yards a game. Navy, however, boasts the best air defense percentage of .242.

UCLA, on the strength of its 51-yard average against Oregon State last Saturday, jumped into the top spot in punting. The Uclans have an average of 42.4 yards for their 30 efforts. Tennessee is second with 41.7.

Celtics Beat Detroit; Hawks Lose to Knicks

By United Press

Professional basketball returned to Detroit, but it was the world-champion Boston Celtics who stole the spotlight.

Boston overcame a six-point halftime deficit Wednesday night to spoil the debut of the Detroit Pistons, 105-94, in the feature of an all-pro doubleheader. In the opener, the New York Knickerbockers handed St. Louis its second straight defeat, 112-95.

A crowd of 10,965 saw Bill Sharman score 14 points in the final period as the free-scoring Celtics broke the game wide open.

The Knicks scored 15 points before St. Louis, last year's Western Division champions, was able to counter its first field goal. New York held a 51-44 halftime lead and moved to a 15-point lead at the end of the third quarter.

HTHS Freshman-Herrin Game Here Tonight Will Begin at 7:30

The Harrisburg-Herrin freshman football game at Taylor Field tonight will start at 7:30 instead of 7:00 as previously announced because of the Homecoming Pep meeting at the field.

The game will start immediately following the rally and everybody is invited to stay and watch the freshmen play football. Admission is free.

Feature Attraction Salukis Meet Eastern Saturday

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Third place Southern Illinois University battles league-leading Eastern Michigan at Ypsilanti, Mich., in the feature Interstate conference attraction Saturday afternoon, Oct. 26.

A victory for the Salukis, currently 2-1 in the loop race, would put them into serious contention for at least a share of the league title—a grid item not collected by Southern since 1947.

Displaying its best fighting spirit in several games, Southern came from behind three times to tie the score and finally went ahead to win, 28-21, at Illinois Normal's Homecoming last Saturday. SIU halfback Tom Kilpatrick of Memphis, Tenn., supplied the winning margin as he climaxed a 90-yard fourth-quarter drive with a 24-yard touchdown jaunt.

Kawal Happy Over Win

SIU trailed during the game, 7-0, 14-7, and 21-14, but each time fought back to knot the score.

Coach Al Kawal was so happy over the victory that he gave the team a practice-free day Monday. He also heaped praise on the spirit of the squad and called it a team victory, pointing out that excellent blocking on key plays made the touchdown runs possible.

After a bout with injuries and the flu, SIU junior halfback Carver Shannon, Corinth, Miss., came back into the limelight as he scored three touchdowns on runs of one, six, and 17 yards in addition to scoring two extra points. He gained 48 yards in 11 carries and set up one touchdown on a 74-yard kickoff return.

Other standouts in the backfield were Kilpatrick, who picked up 81 yards in six carries, halfback Cecil Hart, Hillsboro, who gained 63 yards in nine tries, fullback Paul Restivo, Herrin, who looked especially good on defense, and quarterback Bill Norwood, Centralia, who not only engineered a good signal-calling game, but completed five of seven passes.

Hard Hit by Flu
Southern's "triple threat" guards, Willie Brown, Memphis, Tenn., James Lynch, Benton, and Charles Steptoe, Centralia, all played exceptionally well.

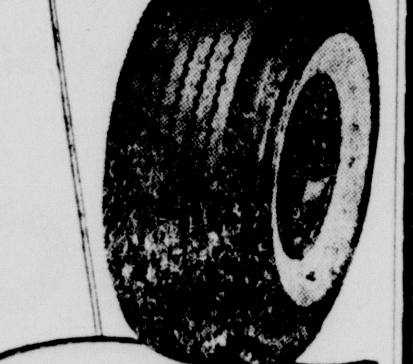

Eastern Michigan, 3-0 in the conference and currently tied with Western Illinois (2-0) for the lead, features a veteran crew with plenty of depth. Last week the Hurons had little trouble in blanking Eastern Illinois, 39-0.

Southern has been hard-hit by the flu epidemic, but if the odds improve, everyone should be ready for at least limited duty except Kilpatrick who suffered an ankle injury in the final minutes of the Normal contest.

Heading the SIU probable starters is Marion Rushing, end from Pinckneyville, who played the entire 60 minutes last week. At the other end will be Richard Nelson, freshman from Wheaton, while the probable tackles will be freshmen Richard Carpenter, Centralia, and Houston Antwine, Memphis, Tenn., who has lost 20 pounds during a recent bout with the flu.

Lynch and Brown are ticketed to start at guards, while John Abramovitch, Haverhill, Mass., will hold down the center post.

Norwood will be at quarterback, Shannon and either Hart or Randle Lewis, East St. Louis, at halfback.

11 Bradley Players Suffer from Flu

PEORIA, Ill. — Bradley was plagued with flu troubles for the second straight week.

Eleven Bradley players were reported suffering from respiratory illnesses Wednesday, slowing down workouts for its game with Drake University here Saturday night.

Last week, Bradley's battle with Omaha University was cancelled due to a flu outbreak on the Omaha squad. The Braves made last-minute arrangements to play Colorado State instead.

Coach Billy Stone said six of the sick squad members were regu-lars. A team spokesman said the illness hitting the squad, which received flu inoculations earlier, lasted two to three days.

Average Family 90 Days from Bankruptcy

By ALFRED LEECH
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO (U.P.)—Here it is National Thrift Week and the average American family is about three months away from bankruptcy.

This dim view of family finances comes from Helen White, executive secretary of the National Thrift Committee, and Jack Olson, an insurance executive.

Their comments were based on a recent survey conducted by leading insurance companies on the financial status of middle class Americans.

Olson, vice president in charge of the disability department of Combined Insurance Company of America, said the average family is "90 days from disaster," financially speaking.

From Pay Day to Pay Day
Mrs. White and Olson said few families accumulate a financial cushion to carry them beyond a three-month period if the breadwinner should lose his job or get sick.

"We're living from pay day to pay day," said Mrs. White.

She said this creates marital discord, and enmeshes and anxiety among the children.

"In many cases the family paycheck is tossed for a later date, the minute the breadwinner gets it," Olson said. "It's cashed or deposited, and the money must be paid out at once to cover bills and current subsistence."

"Families in this situation have a financial sword of Damocles hanging over them."

Each Family Needs Budget
Despite continuing inflation, Miss White and Olson said, there are concrete steps the average family can take to build savings.

Miss White said the first need is for a practical budget based on the obvious fact that "outgo must never exceed income."

"A business soon goes bankrupt if it isn't set up on a sound financial basis with adequate reserves set aside systematically for future emergencies," she said.

In like manner, a family should set aside a regular amount each pay day.

"The average family without adequate reserves in the form of savings in one kind or another faces the constant threat of bankruptcy in 10 to 12 weeks in the event of emergency," she said.

The most likely reason for sweet clover in alfalfa fields is the hard seed of sweet clover that may stay in the soil for many years before it germinates.

Pat Boone Followers Feel Singer Will Become Bing Crosby of This Era

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (U.P.)—Pat Boone is a young man who wears white buckskin shoes, smiles a blinding white smile and says "Gee Whiz" instead of "Gee Whizz."

He does not drink. He does not smoke. He does not swear. He does not tickle chorus girls or play the horses. He does not wiggle and as nearly as can be determined, his pelvis is no object of concern to his public.

His public is many.

"He's one of a kind," says Jack Spina, a manager of talent who has nursed young Boone with rapturous concern for almost three years. "The sky's the limit on his future. All of us around him feel he will become the Bing Crosby of this era."

Boone, for the benefit of those out of earshot of this world, is a singer. Less than three years ago, Charles Eugene Boone (he was nicknamed Pat by his parents who wanted a girl, Patricia) was working his way through North Texas State Teachers College, singing on a Fort Worth station for $50 a week.

He has progressed considerably since that time.

Boone's personal historians credit him with selling more than 15 million records. It is reported that Boone has 300 fan clubs, numbered by 15,000 teenage chicks, a great portion of whom are bunched with call-love for their 23-year-old, six-foot-one-inch, 180-pound, square-jawed, dimpled, brown-haired, gleam-toothed, two-and-one-half-octave range idol.

He has a seven-year contract with 20th Century Fox, out of which union has come two pictures. He also has a five-year contract with ABC, a network that has developed a ravenous appetite this season for singers.

The movie contract is said to be a million-dollar one and the TV deal worth three million dollars, but it is customary in both industries to blot figures of this sort. Nevertheless, there is no doubt that Boone is making money.

Tops His Rivals
He also is making friends. His half-hour ABC-TV musical program, courtly out-Trended the NBC-TV and CBS-TV opposition on its third TV outing this season. This despite the catch-penny aura that surrounds the show.

An employer of domestic help who neglects to report his employees, or who complies with his employer's request not to withhold Social Security taxes, leaves himself open for possible future tax collection and penalties imposed by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Mr. Hill said that many cases where domestic workers were not properly reported are found when the worker applies for Social Security benefits.

Under the Social Security law, domestic work was covered in 1951. In 1955, rules for Social Security coverage in this type of work were relaxed, making it easier for domestic help to earn retirement credits. Mr. Hill said the employer of domestic help who pays his employee $50 or more in a calendar quarter, must make a report of the employee's work and wages at the end of the quarter to the District Director of Internal Revenue. The report is made on forms obtained from the Internal Revenue office. With the report, the employer submits a check for the total amount of Social Security taxes due for the quarter on the employee's wages. This tax is 4 1/2% of the employer's payroll. Half the tax, 2 1/4%, may be withheld from the employee's wages.

Domestic workers in farm households are reported in the same way as farm labor. Normally, these reports are made at the end of the year. Domestic workers on farms must be reported by their employers if they are paid $150 or more during the calendar year, or if they work for 20 days or more for one employer, and are paid on a time basis.

Mr. Hill pointed out that household workers, or employers of such workers can obtain information on the Social Security coverage of household help by writing to the Harrisburg Social Security office.

Household Workers Covered by Social Security, Hill Says

Household workers, and other domestic employees who are paid $50 or more in a calendar quarter by one employer must be reported for Social Security coverage, E. Bishop Hill, Manager of the Harrisburg District Social Security office, said today.

Mr. Hill said that many cases where domestic workers were not properly reported are found when the worker applies for Social Security benefits.

ROMANCE IN THE PUMPKIN PATCH—This romantic "couple" is part of the sales force employed by Lawrence Hunkin to push the sale of pumpkins on his farm at Kirtland Township, near Cleveland, Ohio. They attract passersby, and so far the sale has been good, Hunkin reports. The pumpkin-headed lovers are the creation of Mrs. Hunkin who has a sharp eye for detail, even down to the crab-apple corsage on the lady pumpkin's frock. The pair is stuffed with cornstarch, kept upright by broom handles.

Diagnosis Costs Marion Man a Fine

MARION, Ill. (UP)—A hospital diagnosis cost Buford Johnson a $15 fine in police court today.

Police said a neighbor called an ambulance after thinking Johnson was ill. Johnson was taken to the hospital where a doctor diagnosed the case as intoxication. Johnson rode to jail in the police car.

Flu Hits One Out Of Three at SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP)—Flu and related ailments have affected one of every three students on the Carbondale-Southern campus of Southern Illinois University, Dr. Richard Lee, health service director, said today.

This meant that more than 2,000 of the total enrollment of 6,444 have been hit by the flu. The spread of the flu prompted SIU officials to call off classes Friday and Saturday.

A scheduled Sunday afternoon concert was cancelled. Dr. P. C. Steck, superintendent of the Anna State Hospital at Anna, requested that visitors stay away from the hospital unless they are invited.

He said there have been no Asian flu cases yet at the hospital and that all patients and employees are being given shots.

All hospital group activities have been cancelled. Illness among players at the El Dorado and Cairo high schools caused postponement of a football game scheduled Friday night until Nov. 11.

Junta Seizes Control In Guatemala

GUATEMALA CITY (UP)—A three man military junta seized control of Guatemala today.

The junta was headed by Col. Oscar Mendoza Azurdia, with Col. Gonzalo Yurrita Novoa and Roberto Lorenzana as the other members.

The decision to dissolve the provisional government of President Luis Arturo Gonzalez Lopez was made after several hours of discussion at Army high command headquarters. The junta then took over the government at 3 a. m.

Col. Mendoza, the head of the ruling junta, was undersecretary of national defense.

The move by the military came after riotous crowds threatened to turn the streets of Guatemala into a battleground.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP)—Crooner Bing Crosby, 53, will wed actress Kathy Grant, 23-year-old Texas beauty, today in the little Nevada ranching community of Yearington, the singer announced.

The balding Crosby, a widower since the death of his wife Dixie five years ago, obtained a marriage license in the office of the Clark County clerk today.

Miss Grant and Crosby have been dating for the past two years. It will be the first marriage for Miss Grant, and the second for Crosby.

Crosby said he and his bride would head for his Elko, Nev., ranch after the ceremony, which was expected to take place early this evening. The bride's real name was listed as Olive K. Grant staff. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Every Grandstaff of West Columbia, Tex.

Dog Non Deductible

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Internal Revenue Service has ruled that the upkeep of a seeing-eye dog is not deductible as a business expense. The service said maintenance of a seeing-eye dog "which the individual uses daily in the conduct of his business may be deducted as a medical cost but not as a business expense."

Somebody Hooked The Bedclothes

ELKHART, Ind. (UP)—Mrs. Yvonne Bellamy, Elkhart, woke up to a startling sight one night recently. The covers on her bed were "floating" out a nearby window.

An investigation by her husband, Harold, showed the covers hanging partly out the window of the first floor bedroom had a hooked wire fastened to them. Someone had apparently hooked the wire onto the covers and started to pull them out the window while Mrs. Bellamy was sleeping.

Thor Missile Is Launched

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Defense Department announced that a 1,500-mile range Thor missile was launched successfully today at the test center at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

A Defense spokesman said no details of the firing were available immediately, but were expected shortly.

The Thor, developed by the Air Force, is in a race with the Army's Jupiter for selection as the nation's first 1,500-mile range military rocket.

A Jupiter was fired from Cape Canaveral Tuesday night. The Pentagon said the Jupiter followed its set course and landed "in the pre-selected target area."

Centralia Schools Hit by Flu

CENTRALIA, Ill. (UP)—School officials said today flu and colds have caused the heaviest absenteeism in 10 years at Centralia.

More than 300 of Centralia high school's 1,600 students were out Wednesday. At the junior college and grade schools, about 12 per cent of the students have been affected.

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. (UP)—Harry Bradley, 32, a state patrolman, was injured fatally early today in a traffic accident.

Police said Bradley, of Lawrenceville, was following a state police car in his auto. They said taxicab backed onto a street and that Bradley swerved his car.

Bradley's car jumped a curb and overturned. He was thrown out of the car and died about seven hours later in Lawrence County hospital.

The taxicab driver, Ernie Pero, was not held.

U. S. Fires Rocket 1,000-4,000 Miles Up

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy to announce personally.

This and other newly-announced U. S. weapons developments were sure to be greeted by President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan as good omens in their talks aimed at blue-printing ways to win the East-West race for scientific-military supremacy.

The Defense Department confirmed Wednesday night, after the Los Angeles Examiner "broke" the story, the launching "had taken place Monday."

Data Received Monday
It was expected the rocket would disintegrate along with all its instruments upon re-entering the earth's atmosphere. Its fate was not known however. Meanwhile data from its instruments was radioed to earth in coded "telemeter" messages Monday. This is what scientists are now evaluating on the West Coast.

Announcement of results of the evaluation is expected to be made here. In its terse statement the Defense Department said only that it "confirmed the successful firing Oct. 21. Extensive data was obtained. It is not yet evaluated. We hope it will be ready by noon Friday. We cannot confirm or deny any figures used."

According to advance data, the Farside rocket weighed 1,900 pounds when it left the balloon platform. This compares with a 22,600-pound initial weight for the Vanguard rocket which will attempt to boost a U. S. earth satellite into place next March.

Oil Drilling Permit

Hal S. Lobree, 3 Court Building, Evansville, has been granted an oil well drilling permit for the Jess Clarida No. 1, SE 1/4 NE SW, 20-85-3e (Brushy).

Committee met here Wednesday and promptly predicted that 1958 would be a Democratic year.

State Chairman James A. Ronan said the "trend" is running for the Democrats in 1958, particularly because of farm unrest, and criticism of cutbacks in defense and a "misguided missile" program.

As for the Illinois congressional delegation, Ronan said, Democrats believe there is a chance of unseating GOP congressmen Sid Simpson of Carrollton and Charles W. Vursell of Salem.

Vursell is from the 23rd Congressional District; Simpson from the 29th. Both have served in Congress since 1942.

Ronan said the Democrats felt their three downstate congressmen, Peter F. Mack of Carlinville, Melvin Price of East St. Louis, and Kenneth Gray of West Frankfort, were "safe" for the 1958 election.

Hoffa Denied Delay for Trials

NEW YORK (UP)—Teamster Leader James R. Hoffa lost his plea today for a long delay of his perjury and wire-tap trials.

Federal Judge William B. Herlands denied motions to postpone the trials.

"The newly-elected, still unseated, head of the Teamsters Brotherhood, had claimed that he was the victim of a 'unparalleled attack' in the press, radio and television which would deny him the right of a fair and impartial jury if he was to be tried on those charges now."

Judge Herlands, in denying the motions, pointed out there was nothing to show that "he would not continue to be a public controversial figure in the future." Should the questioning of prospective jurors indicate that an unbiased panel could not be selected, he could then move for a continuance, the judge added.

Sen. Mansfield Asks Subsidies to Educate Scientists

BOZEMAN, Mont. (UP)—Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) urged the government today to subsidize the education of young scientists who agree to help it gain supremacy in the race to outer space.

Conceding that his proposal would be denounced as "socialism" by some, Mansfield said: "I call it survival. . . . We must face up to the facts of life."

The senator, addressing an education association convention here, also called for:

—Appointment of a secretary for research and development with Cabinet status to assume direct control of all scientific projects relating to missiles, rockets and outer space.

—Full cooperation with scientists of Western Europe in the race for nuclear and space superiority.

—Sharply upgrade the Army's Redstone missile which, he said, is "at the bottom of the missile totem pole despite the fact that it is the only real advance in the missile field."

State Department's No. 2 Official Greeter Is Fired

WASHINGTON (UP)—Victor Purse, State Department deputy chief of protocol, was booted out of his job Wednesday. There was a suspicion it was because he came back from New York aboard President Eisenhower's plane while his boss came via commercial airline.

Purse, who helped escort Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip during their recent visit here, was notified he was being relieved as the government's number two official greeter of foreign dignitaries.

There were reports his chief, Wiley T. Buchanan Jr., asked that Purse be relieved soon after he saw his deputy get off the President's plane Columbine III when the Chief Executive returned from New York Wednesday morning.

Buchanan denied that Purse's presence on the presidential plane had anything to do with the decision to relieve him. He said the action had been under consideration "for a long time."

Fatally Injured At Effingham

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (UP)—Charles Pearson, about 70, Palatine, was fatally injured early today when struck by an automobile on U. S. 40 at Effingham.

Edith Gabriel, 24, Brooklyn, N. Y., told authorities she was driving east through the heavy rain when she felt the impact of her car striking an object. She said she stopped to investigate and saw Pearson lying on the road. Pearson was taken to St. Anthony Memorial Hospital, where he died.

Will Visit Garden of the Gods; 55 Cars On Trip Held Last Sunday

The fourth Sunday Autumn Col- or Tour along the Trigg Memorial Ozark Trail will be held next Sun- day, Oct. 27, the caravan assem- bling at the intersection of Routes 45, 145 and 34, southeast of Har- risburg, at 10 a. m. CST. Leaders on this tour will be L. A. Dear- inger, Art LaSalle, and A. G. Packwood, all of Mt. Vernon.

The main objective on the tour will be the Garden of the Gods, 7 1/2 miles east of Herod in Saline county. Weather and roads per- mitting, it is likely that there will be little time to visit other historic and scenic sites along the Trigg Trail, as recent exploration in the Garden of the Gods has revealed added areas of equal interest to those previously explored. On Sun- day's tour side trips will origi- nate at the Anvil Rock, each trip being conducted by a competent leader. Also at the Anvil Rock luncheon will be eaten, and wor- ship services held.

If roads are bad, other sites ad- jacent to the Trigg Memorial Trail will be visited.

All making the tour should bring their own food and water, and should wear shoes with rubber or fiber soles.

Louis E. Aaron of Harrisburg, a leader on last Sunday's tour, reports as follows on the October 20th trip:

"Our tour was a grand success. Forty-one cars left the intersec- tion of Routes 34 and 45. Twelve more joined at Bell Smith Springs and others at Hays Canyon. We can safely say there were fifty-five cars.

"Everything was carried out ac- cording to the program except that we were exactly one hour late reaching Hays Canyon, loss of time was in trying to maneuver such a large crowd.

"Coy K't'g of Eddyville and Paul Hatfield helped John Foster and me at Hays Canyon.

"Our religious service was very impressive and Rev. Erastus Barger of Eddyville gave a short appropriate talk.

"Everyone introduced himself; Lowell Dearinger announced next Sunday's tour; Mr. Killian an- nounced a tour at Ava on Nov. 3; and Mr. King one at Eddyville Nov. 10.

"Many expressed their appre- ciation for a beautiful, well plan- ned tour for which we were thank- ful."

It seems that 10 of her children still at home are quarantined with whooping cough.

Ila Milligan of Parker's Attends Frigidaire Showing

Ila Milligan, appliance man- ager at the Lloyd L. Parker's fur- niture store, attended the show- ing of the new 1958 Frigidaire home appliances in St. Louis Tuesday. The Golden Anniversary models, celebrating 50 years of General Motors production, has a subtle refinement in Frigidaire's classic sheer look plus a wide variety of conveniences and two new col- ors.

New ranges with amazing "spat- ter free" broiler grill and refrig- erators with Frigidaire-pioneered

"flowing cold" cooling system will highlight these new 1958 Frigidaire products.

New free standing appliances are now available in new turquoise and sunny yellow as well as char- coal gray, pink and white. Built- in appliances also come in these colors.

Mr. Milligan said that these new appliances will be shown at the Lloyd L. Parker's Furniture store sometime in November. The date will be announced later.

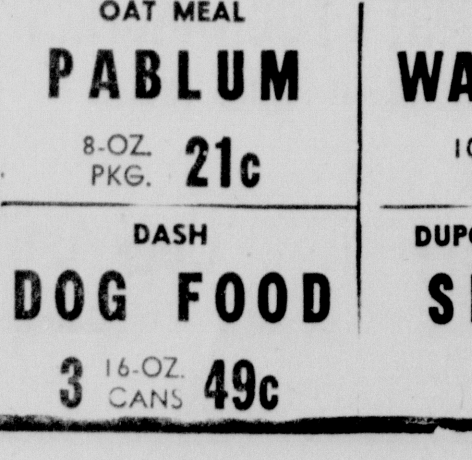

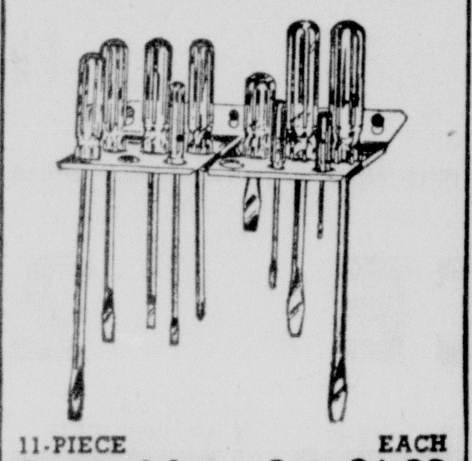

"Pink Eyes"

In albinos, the eyes are pink because of the lack of black pig- ment causing the blood of the tiny vessels of the eye to show through the transparent parts of the eye. In normal eyes, the pink color is hidden by the color of the iris.

ENTERS QUILT IN NATIONWIDE CROCHET CONTEST—More than 75,000 feet of crochet thread was used in making this beautiful Marguerite Pattern quilt that required 1,300 hours of the time of Mrs. E. V. Phillips of Shawneetown.

Mrs. Phillips, who won a blue ribbon and cash award with her fancy quilt at the Effingham County fair held at Altamont last summer, became eligible for the nationwide contest and is all set on copping a prize.

Although there are numerous prizes to be awarded by the National Needlecraft Bureau, Inc., of New York City, the grand national prize is a free trip to New York City and Bermuda for two, plus $1,000 in cash.

THE CANVAS DAGGER

by HELEN REILLY

THE STORY: Sarah and Tom Gillespie visit the home occupied last year by Grant Melville, the painter believed to have been murdered. While they are there, Miss Crystabel Dolvin enters and examines some paintings, including a mutilated canvas.

XVIII

Lieutenant Carney might have been made of wood for all the reaction he showed.

"You last saw this man Dennert on Friday night, making for a Boston train. When you drove up here to your aunt's house on Saturday you had no idea that Dennert was coming to Cornwall."

She said gently, "Neither Mr. Gillespie nor I had the slightest notion of where Mr. Dennert was bound for."

"And Mr. Gillespie — did you know when he left you Friday night that he was coming to Cornwall?"

She explained that Tom had come at Mrs. Melville's suggestion, made later on Friday night, after she and Tom had parted. Mrs. Melville had suggested that the cottage up here in the hills where Grant Melville had done a lot of painting might be a good starting place for the biography — he had a number of friends here.

Sarah had a flash of Tom peering through the window of the pink room in the dusk, bent forward in a crouching attitude. . . She said that they met outside on the terrace, that Tom had walked down over the hills in the direction of the village and taken a shortcut thru the grounds.

"Mr. Gillespie was surprised to see you, Miss Casement, and you were surprised to see him?"

There she could answer wholeheartedly, Tom had been as stunned as she was.

It occurred to her at that point that she didn't know where in the house Dennert had been killed, or how. She asked.

Lieutenant Carney said, "We think he was killed here in this living room, over there on the hearth in front of the fireplace."

He explained that there were traces of what would probably turn out to be blood in cracks between the bricks.

Most of it had been wiped up but a residue remained. Dennert had been struck repeatedly with a heavy weapon, such as a piece of iron piping or a club of some sort, and his head bashed in. They didn't know exactly when the attack had taken place. Dennert had left the bus at the state road about 12:40.

Dennert must have come into the stone house at around five minutes after one. He hadn't gone past Carlotta and Steven's or Mr. Sproul's; Carlotta and Sproul were both working around outside and neither of them had seen him. That meant that Dennert could have been killed at any time between a little after one o'clock and shortly before 4:30, when Sarah arrived. The body had been rolled in the striped blanket and carried up to the end chamber for removal later, after dark, and the place cleaned up. The killer hadn't quite finished his work when Carlotta and Sarah came in, and had made his escape through the front door. That night Dennert's body had been thrown into the deepest part of the pond from a boat.

There was a sound of voices outside and Tom walked in. He was bewildered, at sea. He ignored

Lieutenant Carney and crossed to Sarah, one hand thrust into a pocket, the other rumpling his hair. "What's all this about Dennert's being the corpse—and a hat?"

Sarah told him.

Tom threw himself into a chair, and stared at her. "Out of the frying pan, into the fire—you did jump with a vengeance. Dennert . . ."

Sarah was glad she had told the whole truth about New York and what had happened there, because Tom proceeded to do so at once.

"You were surprised to find Miss Casement here, Mr. Gillespie?"

Tom said, "I was, surprised and delighted." Between them they figured out that he had driven along Rand Road past the stone house on his way to Melville's cottage in the hills close to the time Dennert had come down the road and into the house. Tom said he must just have missed him.

For all his mildness the Lieutenant had a way of saying "I see," that was annoying. He was called to the phone again then; he closed the door behind him when he went, and left them alone.

Tom came over to Sarah's chair. "You didn't mention Channing to the police?"

He spoke in a low voice. Sarah had to think for a moment what Channing was—of course, his uncle, Channing Hall. She shook her head and he looked relieved.

The lieutenant came back. His amiability had faded. "Let's go back a little. The last you saw of Dennert was last Friday night when he was going through the gates at Grand Central to board a Boston train?"

Tom nodded.

The lieutenant said, "Well, all I can say is that that's very strange."

"Strange?" Tom remained casual. "I don't get you, Lieutenant, what's strange about it?"

Carney said, and he sounded tired, "Just this. The plane you took is a small job that takes 15 passengers. There were only five coming over from Boston on Saturday morning, and Joseph Dennert was one of them."

It was no surprise they weren't going to be able to leave Cornwall then and there.

Fox, Mantle Unanimous Selections To American League All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Nelson Fox, who's hit a total of 25 home runs in 11 big league seasons, and Mickey Mantle, who's hit that many in half a campaign, were the only unanimous picks on the United Press 1957 American League All-Star team.

The team, selected by a 24-man committee of three baseball writers from each city in the league, also included catcher Yogi Berra and shortstop Gil McDougald of

the Yankees, first baseman Vic Wertz of the Indians, third baseman Frank Malzone and outfielder Ted Williams of the Red Sox, outfielder Roy Sievers of the Senators, pitcher Jim Bunning of the Tigers and Fox' White Sox teammate, pitcher Billy Pierce.

The Baltimore Orioles and Kansas City Athletics were the only teams not represented on a squad that averages 30 years of age per man. The eight regulars hit a total of 200 home runs this year and both pitchers hit the 20-victory total on the nose.

In Fox and Mantle, the writers honored perhaps the two key men in an American League pennant race that quickly developed into a two-team fight between the White Sox and Yankees.

Fox, a 5-foot, 9-inch, 155-pounder from St. Thomas, Pa., typified the White Sox' season-long struggle to out-hustle and out-fight a Yankee team that was superior in both front-line personnel and depth. A fighter all the way, Fox played in all 155 of his team's games, led the league with 196 hits and batted .317 — fifth best average in the circuit.

Mantle, of course, was the Yankees' "big stick." He batted .365 and hit 34 homers despite the fact he was walked 146 times. The youngest regular on the team at 26, Mantle is a strong candidate to win his second straight most valuable player award.

The Harrisburg School of Practical Nursing enjoyed a tour of the Harrisburg Dairy, Monday, under the direction of Roy Thompson.

Some of the most practical pointers observed was the preparation of ice cream for distribution, the bottling and pasteurization of milk. There were other interesting experiences for the group, accompanied by Mrs. Louise Cothran. Dixie cups were served for refreshment.

No Policy Change By Resignation Of Brownell

President Names
William Rogers to Justice Dept's Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's choice of William P. Rogers to succeed Herbert Brownell Jr. as Attorney General portends no change in the Justice Department's firm civil rights policy, informed sources said today.

But the surprise White House announcement had Washington buzzing with speculation as to the possible significance of the shift.

Brownell, who will bow out as the administration's top law enforcement officer around the second week in November, disavowed any political ambitions. He said he will rejoin his former law firm of Lord, Day and Lord of New York City.

Once in private life, however, he would be free to resume his role as former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's political strategist—or his own.

Gained Politically

Brownell has become a political figure in his own right by reason of his close identification with the administration's civil rights bill and enforcement policy—notably sending troops to Little Rock, Ark. That might tempt him into New York state politics as a candidate for governor or the U. S. Senate.

Rogers, who at 44 will be the youngest member of the Eisenhower cabinet, is a close personal and political friend of Nixon. His presence on the Eisenhower "team" will give Nixon a "friend in court."

Brownell's resignation came with thunderclap surprise to Washington although there has been speculation most of the President's original cabinet would drop out during his second term.

Third To Resign

His departure is the third cabinet resignation during the current presidential term, the others being Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

There are now only four members of the original Eisenhower cabinet left—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks and Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield. There has been speculation Dulles will also retire sometime in the near future, but nothing firm has developed.

Denies PMWA Will Rejoin UMW

Harry Gee of Carrier Mills, board member of Subdistrict 11, Progressive Mine Workers of America, today said that contrary to some talk, the PMWA was not planning to rejoin the United Mine Workers.

He said rumors of rejoining followed the transfer of allegiance from the PMWA to the UMWA of Midwest Radiant and St. Ellen coal mine employees, and explained the transfer as follows:

The two St. Clair county unions formerly worked for individual coal companies as Progressive Mine Workers but that about six months ago the Peabody Coal Co. purchased both the mines.

Peabody, he continued, has a master contract with the UMWA with a clause in the contract that neither Peabody nor its subsidiaries will operate any mine unless the employees of that mine are represented by the United Mine Workers.

He said about three months ago both mines closed for a period and there were rumors they would never open again as long as the PMWA was bargaining agent. The mines later reopened and the miners eventually voted to transfer unions to save their jobs.

He said in the meantime the PMWA has filed "unfair labor practice" charges against the employers.

Typhoon Heading For Okinawa

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—Powerful typhoon Judy, packing winds up to nearly 200 miles an hour aimed straight at the heart of this U. S. Pacific bastion today.

Nearly 50,000 American fighting men and close to one million Okinawans batted down in the face of the biggest storm of the year.

Judy's power surpassed the strength of a dozen H-bombs. Its center was 360 miles southeast of Okinawa, moving northwest at 18 miles an hour.

The island was taking no chances this time. Typhoon Faye caught the island with its pants down.

Flu Outbreaks Close 8 Schools In Chicago Area

Visitors Barred
From 25 State
Welfare Institutions

By United Press
Flu outbreaks today prompted eight schools in Chicago's suburbs to shut down.

Visitors, meanwhile, were barred from the state's 25 public welfare institutions in an all-out effort to limit the spread of respiratory ailments and complications already have claimed 17 lives in Illinois.

The influenza epidemic, respiratory ailments and complications already have claimed 17 lives in Illinois.

Marion Jordan, district superintendent in the Palatine-Rolling Meadows area of Cook County, said he ordered seven schools closed today because student absenteeism and the cost of substitute teachers has been a financial burden.

"About one-fourth of our pupils and teachers have been out recently," he said. "We lose about $1 a day for every child absent. With 1,000 pupils absent Wednesday, for example, we simply can't afford to stay open." Jordan's action affects about 3,800 students.

The eighth school closed is in Volo, where one-third of the 100 students are down with illness.

In announcing the unprecedented move in the state welfare institutions, Welfare Director Dr. Otto Bettag said doors would not be reopened to visitors until all 50,000 patients received Asian flu shots.

The death toll is now 10 at the Dixon State School for the Mentally Retarded, where 45 per cent of the inmate population has been hit with flu and its after effects.

Seven patients of the 1,082 confined to bed at Dixon are reported to be in serious condition.

NATION'S FLU TOLL APPROACHES 300 MARK

Deaths from flu or its complications approached 300 in the United States Thursday and a government agency reported that perhaps a million or more new cases of flu or influenza-like diseases occurred last week.

Throughout the nation, United Press counted 290 deaths blamed on flu and its complications since last summer when the first case of Asian flu was confirmed in the country.

Quit 'Disorganizing' Work

Labor Spy Says He Threatened Families While Employee of Shefferman

WASHINGTON (AP)—A self-confessed labor spy said today he quit union "disorganizing" work for Nathan W. Shefferman's labor-relations firm because "they were just too vicious for me."

The witness was Charles Litell of Marion, Ohio. He told the Senate Rackets Committee that on orders of a Shefferman employee he used to spy on fellow workers at the Marion plant of the Whirlpool Corp. and threaten their families if they did not cease union activity.

Litell, a slim, crew-cut man in his 30's, said, "I guess if I had to face it" he would call himself a labor spy, and a cheap one at that.

He said that for $20 a week he worked with Dr. Louis Checov, an "industrial psychologist" on Shefferman's staff, to keep any union out of the Marion plant. He said he formed a "spontaneous" committee of anti-union workers, reported to management on the union sentiments of fellow workers, and threatened them with loss of their jobs if they supported the union.

The committee is investigating activities of Shefferman, labor relations adviser to some 300 firms across the nation, who was termed "a notorious union buster" by Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said Wednesday that Checov is in Vancouver, Canada, and refuses to return to testify.

The committee said Checov told an investigator in Vancouver that Shefferman hustled him out of the country so he would not be a witness in an unfair labor practices case growing out of Litell's discharge.

Whirlpool officials denied any knowledge of a committee designed to keep the UAW out of the Marion plant. But they conceded that after haggling they paid Checov's heavy expense vouchers for food and drink for committee members.

Atmosphere of Optimism in Eisenhower-Macmillan Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—British and U. S. leaders expressed satisfaction today with the progress of talks between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The top-level conferences resumed at the White House in an atmosphere of optimism colored by a sudden burst of U. S. military achievements, including a 1,000-4,000 mile rocket shoot.

Diplomatic sources reported that the two leaders are considering asking other nations to join in pooling scientific-military information in the East-West race for nuclear and space superiority.

Eisenhower and Macmillan began their talks on scientific unity and other global problems Wednesday night.

Macmillan promptly agreed. Close attention is being paid to the war-jittery Middle East and a careful review of Soviet intentions around the globe, as well as the issue of East-West military and scientific supremacy.

May Discuss Red Move
Russia's decision to send one of

its top military commanders to take charge of Soviet troops on the Russian-Turkish border, announced Wednesday, was considered likely to come up in the discussions. British diplomats were reported gravely concerned about appointment of Red Army Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky to what previously was deemed a minor border post.

The dramatic firing of the Air Force rocket to 1,000-4,000 miles over the Pacific was almost certain to create a new surge of optimism in the ability of the United States and the West to match or outstrip Russia in the race for space supremacy.

Added to this was other announcements of new U. S. strides in the modern weapons field. These included the successful testing of a 1,500-mile Jupiter missile, disclosure of an atomic depth charge for combatting Soviet submarines and the test firing of a Vanguard missile which eventually will carry a U. S. satellite into space.

Italian Police Rescue Jayne Mansfield From Mob of Fans

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Italian riot police rescued Hollywood's Jayne Mansfield, trembling and barefoot, from a mob of fans early today and sped her in a red jeep to the seclusion of a plush nightclub.

The near riot in which fans made off with her $1,000 diamond studded garter and her matching gold earrings climaxed a hectic day.

Noted Fashion Czar Christian Dior Dies at 52

MONTECATINI TERME, Italy (AP)—Christian Dior, the mild-mannered fashion czar whose merest whim could change hemlines for ten million women died of a heart attack shortly before midnight Wednesday night.

The 52-year-old bachelor rose to his greatest fame shortly after the war when he unveiled the long-skirted "new look" that substituted what he called the "peace-time grace and charm of a woman in a long skirt" for the knee-length dresses of World War II.

He remained at the top of the rarefied world of "haute couture"—the high style that made Paris synonymous with fashion. He died with succeeding "A" looks, "H" looks and this year's new "Fack look" which puts women in a formless, beltless garment that also is known as the "Gunnysack look."

Dior was visiting this famed spa near Pisa with four men friends and was stricken shortly after dinner. He returned to his room at the luxurious Hotel De La Paix and died a few minutes before midnight.

The success of his dictates to women reportedly brought him a seven million dollar annual business and a $75,000 annual income.

Exact Height Of Missile Still Undetermined

Triggered by Air Force from Balloon Platform

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has taken man's highest known step yet in the race to the moon—stabbing a rocket an estimated 1,000-4,000 miles or more into space.

Precisely how high the slender multi-stage missile probed into the unknown won't be determined until calculations are completed, possibly Friday. But Air Force scientists believe it soared 1,000 to 4,000 miles or more, easily outdistancing Russia's earth satellite or any other known projectile ever sent aloft by man.

The rocket, it was disclosed Wednesday night, was triggered Monday by the Air Force operation "Farside" from a balloon-supported platform 20 miles high over Eniwetok Atoll in the Pacific to help it escape the earth's atmosphere.

While a considerable feat, experts said today Farside ranks distinctly below Russia's achievement in hurling a satellite into orbit around the globe. Neither does it mean necessarily the United States has leaped in front in the race to develop long-range missiles carrying H-bomb warheads.

Aid To Free World

Perhaps Farside's biggest initial significance is in giving the free world a strong psychological boost toward overcoming Russia's scientific gains apparent in its Sputnik.

U. S. efforts to launch the long-planned Farside rocket apparently were drastically stepped up following the Sputnik launching Oct. 4. It was reported Monday's successful launching was considered so important the Pentagon hoped to have exact data available for De-

Hilarious Response To First Showing Of Elks Minstrel

There was hilarious response to the Wednesday night showing of the annual Elks minstrel and revue at the Grand theatre.

The comedy was great and the music and dancing was excellent. Many said they believed the revue was the best that has been presented in Harrisburg.

The show was presented free of charge to school children yesterday afternoon as the participants went through a dress rehearsal and there was a good-sized crowd on hand for the presentation last night.

Tonight will be the last night of the show. Curtain time is 8:15 and tickets will be available at the door.

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist church met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Capitola Melton, 606 East Poplar street.

The Rev. W. L. Cummins had been invited to speak before the Guild and he chose to read the Dr. Phillips translation of the 10th chapter of Acts. He said the story related in this passage of the New Testament was the best instance of "race prejudice" anyone could find. His theme of thought was on the church and one race, that God is no respecter of persons and that we should not think of man as being common or unclean. He concluded his talk by challenging the Christian people to do something constructive toward the brotherhood of all races instead of just passively thinking about it.

Miss Bernice Patterson gave the devotional thought on "Am I my brother's keeper," and related a most vivid story to illustrate her thought.

Mrs. Ray Johnson read the Charter of Racial Policies drawn by the Woman's Society of Christian Service and following the complete reading the Guild moved to adopt it.

Attention was called to the Week of Prayer and Self-Denial to be Oct. 25 through 31st. The Guild also moved to contribute to the Church Extension advance gifts and also to McKendree College.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER Secretary of State

The fall season is with us again and it brings with it a continuation of fewer daylight hours.

Rush hour traffic will call for special alertness on the part of motorists. It should be of assistance to you if you remember that the other motorists and pedestrians have just as difficult a time seeing as you do.

In order to insure your sufficient time to reach your destination, if you travel in the morning rush hour, leave five or ten minutes earlier than you would during the spring or summer months. That short a period of lost sleep may well result in the saving of your life and the lives of others.

And on the way home at night, remember that arriving at your destination a little later than you had been in the previous months is much better than not arriving at all, or, than arriving at a hospital as a patient.

STREAMLINED—Don't be surprised if that U.S. Savings Bond you buy from now on looks and feels a little different—it's just been streamlined. The new smaller bond is going to have more punch. In fact it has 13 punches in addition to the smaller size printing saving the taxpayer $500,000 a year. It might also prevent some of those washing machine tragedies, caused when the fellows had to fold the old bond, then forgot to remove it from a shirt pocket. The new bond is 7 1/2 x 3 1/4 inches.

'How Are the Mighty Fallen'

A sad by-product of the world's furore over the Soviet man-made satellite was reflected recently in the wry comment of a British scientist, Dr. D. C. Martin.

He said Britain lacks the resources to take part in the competitive contest for supremacy in the earth
satellite field. As a consequence,
he added, the British will have to content themselves with monitoring the movements of other nations' artificial "moons."

It is hard to realize that this is
a voice from the once all-powerful British Empire, which reached
to the corners of the earth and
swept the seas clear of hostile foes.

Thus the empire, once dominant
on the field of power, is reduced to a kind of umpire—counting the balls and strikes of other players

The Washington Merry-Go-Round
By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Prince Philip Really Knew His
Onions; British Don't Want U.
S. Too Close To USSR; Mac-
Millan Doesn't Fancy Zhukov-
Eisenhower Conference.

WASHINGTON. — With the Queen and her prince back in England, the nation's capital has settled down to the problems of Syria, Sputnik, and red tape. Still buzzing through social Washington are tales of the royal couple,
especially Prince Philip's amazing
memory.

As he stood in the reception line
at the British embassy garden party, greeting 2,000 guests, he asked casual questions about where guests came from, what they did.

"What do you do?" he asked
Peter Strauss, son of Nathan Strauss, housing commissioner
during the New Deal.

"I work for the ILO," replied
Strauss.

Probably not more than half a dozen people among the 2,000 who passed through the line would have known that ILO stood for International Labor Office; nor would have known where its offices were nor its head. But the prince knew.

"Do you work in Geneva or

Washington?" he asked, referring to the ILO's two chief offices.
"In Geneva."

"Then you must work for Morse," observed Prince Philip,
referring to David Morse, head of the International Labor Office.

FEAR USA-USSR ALLIANCE

One reason for Prime Minister
MacMillan's anxiety to confer with President Eisenhower immediatly rather than wait until next winter was to head off an Eisenhower
conference with Marshal Zhukov.

An Eisenhower-Zhukov conference, the British fear, might pave
the way for a sort of American-Russian understanding regarding various parts of the world, which would leave the other NATO allies
out in the cold.

This spectre of a close Russian-
American understanding has hung
over the British ever since the war
years, has sometimes given them a diplomatic heebie jeebies. It began during the war when Stalin
proposed to Churchill and Roosevelt that there be a division of the Balkans; Britain having a sphere
of influence over Greece and Yugoslavia, Russia taking Bulgaria
and Rumania. Significantly, Russia has now bitten off exactly the same two countries Stalin wanted
— Bulgaria and Rumania.

Also during the war, Stalin proposed that Russia take a sphere
of influence over Asia; the United States over all Latin America.
Roosevelt said no. The Kremlin,
however, has proceeded to bring a good slice of Asia under its Red
wing, anyway.

Latterly, repeated noises have been coming out of Moscow, suggesting that the USA and USSR
could decide the world's problems
if they operated face-to-face.

This was suggested during last
summer's disarmament talks;
again more pointedly during the worsening Near East crisis.

So far Secretary Dulles has spurned Moscow's overtures. Some of his advisers, however, plus
many American military men,
think the United States might make real strides for peace by talking to Russia direct—without deserting our allies.

ABSENT AMBASSADOR

Congressman John Blatnik of Minnesota came back from Yugoslavia the other day where he found that, despite momentous events, the United States lacked either an ambassador or a No. 2
man on the job.

The ambassador, Jimmie Riddleberger, has been in Washington, sitting on a board to decide
on the promotion of career diplomats. The counsel of embassy,
Norris Chipman, recently died.

In the interim, Tito had a vitally important visit from Marshal
Zhukov, commander of the Red
Army and the man who will probably succeed Khrushchev. No
top U. S. diplomats were on hand to report back to Washington.

Meanwhile, also, Yugoslavia decided to recognize East Germany,
thereby causing West Germany to break diplomatic relations. No American ambassador was on deck in Belgrade to make Tito
realize the consequences.

Blatnik found out from his own
sources that Tito was at his hunting lodge preparing an important statement. The unmanned embassy assured him, however, that Tito was simply hunting.

It turned out that the congressman, who had been in the country
only a few days, was better informed than the American embassy. Shortly thereafter, Tito
released an important statement

declaring Yugoslavia's intention to recognize East Germany.

News from the State Capitol

Coal production in Illinois mines totalled 3,918,595 tons during September, according to B. H. Schull, director of the state Department of Mines and Minerals.

The Illinois deer hunting story, plus progress in the development of the game and fish program in the state, are among articles in the fall-winter edition of Outdoors in Illinois, the state Department of Conservation magazine now being distributed to more than 50,000 subscribers.

Among other articles are stories on the history of the clay pigeon, crappies in Illinois, turkey talk, chuck wagon specials and a new list of record fish for Illinois.

Outdoors in Illinois is available, free of charge, from the Division of Education of the Department of Conservation in Springfield.

Local health officials throughout Illinois will meet in Springfield on October 28 and 29 at a conference sponsored by the Illinois Department of Public Health.

Topics to be discussed include

Asian influenza, health problems related to an aging population, and the management of public health administration.

The Illinois State Police force will reach its full complement of 1,100 men by January 1, 1958, upon the graduation of three training classes scheduled to be held during the remainder of this year, Superintendent William H. Morris reported to Director of Public Safety Joseph D. Bibb. This includes the 500 additional men the 1957 legislature authorized at the request of Governor William G. Stratton as a part of his highway safety program.

Director Stillman J. Stanard of the Illinois Department of Agriculture has issued a stern warning to hog breeders to plan their 1958 farrowing program with special care.
He said too large an increase in hog production in 1958 would incur the danger of badly depressed prices beginning with the fall of that year.

He pointed out that the Illinois hog-corn ratio in mid-September reached the highest point since May, 1954, and this situation usually gives rise to increased farrowings. Stanard said a seven percent increase in farrowings has been forecast for the period December through February but that increases above that percentage would make the risk of sharp price declines much greater.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

CHICAGO (UP) — The 5th Army will consolidate its 13 reserve districts into four as an economy move, according to an announcement by W. H. Arnold, 5th Army commander.

Arnold said Tuesday the conversion is expected to extend well into 1958. He said the move will save about $1,250,000 a year.

The four new reserve corps headquarters, to be activated Jan. 1, 1958, will be at Indianapolis, St.
Louis, Minneapolis and Omaha.

The XI Headquarters in St. Louis will be responsible for units in Illinois and Missouri. The VI Corps Headquarters at Ft. Benjamin Harrison in Indianapolis will have charge of Indiana and Michigan units.

The XIV Headquarters in Minn-neapolis will have charge of units in Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The XVI Corps Headquarters in Omaha will head units in Colorado,
Kansas, Nebraska and Wyoming.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

You cannot hate the person you know. You may not completely agree with another person, but there are no two people who agree
on everything. Hating comes from magnifying disagreement.
It develops from not knowing the
whole person, his problems, his kindness, his charity, his hardships, his conflicts and his frustrations.

When we start to list a few of the items which make up one's

character we find that the roster
is surprisingly long. We overlook many of these human details of the individual whom we think we hate. There is so much missing from our knowledge
about those we detest that we really do not have even a profile of the individual in our minds.

God has all the facts about us.
He knows us all completely. That must be the reason for His loving mankind. He hates our sins but He loves us enough save our souls.

Bull Dogs to Play Carbondale Terriers at Homecoming Friday

The Carbondale Terriers, who meet the Harrisburg Bull Dogs in the annual Homecoming football game at Taylor Field Friday night starting at 7:30, have snapped out of the doldrums to win their last two contests by decisive margins.

The Terriers, who dropped their first four games, last week downed Pinckneyville 41 to 13 and the week before blasted Chester 31 to 6. Prior to that the Jackson county boys lost 27 to 0 to West Frankfort, 12 to 7 to Metropolis, 13 to 0 to Anna and 44 to 12 to Sparta.

So the 2-4 record looks formidable as far as the Bull Dogs are concerned.

For the record, the Bull Dogs dropped their opener 7-0 to Murphysboro and after nosing out

Auburn Tops In Grid Defense

NEW YORK — The Auburn Tigers, belying the tradition of Southern hospitality, continue as the stingiest group among the nation's major college football teams.

Undefeated Auburn has yielded an average of 157.8 yards a game to rank as the total defense leader for the second straight week. The Tigers, who have allowed just one touchdown all season, also rate second to Iowa in defense against running plays.

Oklahoma State and Navy are tied for second in total defense with identical 168.8 yard averages per game. Princeton and Miami of Florida are close behind.

Iowa in taking the lead in rushing defense, has allowed its opponents an average 58.5 yards on the ground. Georgia Tech tops the nation's colleges in pass defense, having permitted 30.8 air yards a game. Navy, however, boasts the best air defense percentage of .242.

UCLA, on the strength of its 51 yard average against Oregon State last Saturday, jumped into the top spot in punting. The Uclans have an average of 42.4 yards for their 30 efforts. Tennessee is second with 41.7.

Celtics Beat Detroit; Hawks Lose to Knicks

By United Press
Professional basketball returned to Detroit, but it was the world-champion Boston Celtics who stole the spotlight.

Boston overcame a six-point halftime deficit Wednesday night to spoil the debut of the Detroit Pistons, 105-94, in the feature of an all-pro doubleheader. In the opener, the New York Knickerbockers handed St. Louis its second straight defeat, 112-95.

A crowd of 10,965 saw Bill Sharman score 14 points in the final period as the free-scoring Celtics broke the game wide open.

The Knicks scored 15 points before St. Louis, last year's Western Division champions, was able to counter its first field goal. New York held a 51-44 halftime lead and moved to a 15-point lead at the end of the third quarter.

HTHS Freshman-Herrin Game Here Tonight Will Begin at 7:30

The Harrisburg-Herrin freshman football game at Taylor Field tonight will start at 7:30 instead of 7:00 as previously announced because of the Homecoming Pep meeting at the field.

The game will start immediately following the rally and everybody is invited to stay and watch the freshmen play football. Admission is free.

Feature Attraction Salukis Meet Eastern Saturday

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Third-place Southern Illinois University battles league-leading Eastern Michigan at Ypsilanti, Mich., in the feature Interstate Conference attraction Saturday afternoon, Oct. 26.

A victory for the Salukis, currently 2-1 in the loop race, would put them into serious contention for at least a share of the league title—a grid item not collected by Southern since 1947.

Displaying its best fighting spirit in several games, Southern came from behind three times to tie the score and finally went ahead to win, 28-21, at Illinois Normal's Homecoming last Saturday. SIU halfback Tom Kilpatrick of Memphis, Tenn., supplied the winning margin as he climaxed a 90-yard fourth-quarter drive with a 24-yard touchdown jaunt.

Kawal Happy Over Win

SIU trailed during the game, 7-0, 14-7, and 21-14, but each time fought back to knot the score.

Coach Al Kawal was so happy over the victory that he gave the team a practice-free day Monday. He also heaped praise on the spirit of the squad and called it a team victory, pointing out that excellent blocking on key plays made the touchdown runs possible.

After a bout with injuries and the flu, SIU junior halfback Carver Shannon, Corinth, Miss., came back into the limelight as he scored three touchdowns on runs of one, six, and 17 yards in addition to scoring two extra points. He gained 48 yards in 11 carries and set up one touchdown on a 74 yard kickoff return.

Other standouts in the backfield were Kilpatrick, who picked up 81 yards in six carries, halfback Cecil Hart, Hillsboro, who gained 63 yards in nine tries, fullback Paul Restivo, Herrin, who looked especially good on defense, and quarterback Bill Norwood, Centralia, who not only engineered a good signal-calling game, but completed five of seven passes.

Southern's "triple threat" guards, Willie Brown, Memphis, Tenn., James Lynch, Benton, and Charles Steptoe, Centralia, all played exceptionally well.

Eastern Michigan, 3-0 in the conference and currently tied with Western Illinois (2-0) for the lead, features a veteran crew with plenty of depth. Last week the Hurons had little trouble in blanking Eastern Illinois, 39-0.

Southern has been hard-hit by the flu epidemic, but if the colds improve, every one should be ready for at least limited duty except Kilpatrick who suffered an ankle injury in the final minutes of the Normal contest.

Heading the SIU probable starters is Marion Rushing, end from Pinckneyville, who played the entire 60 minutes last week. At the other end will be Richard Nelson, freshman from Wheaton, while the probable tackles will be freshmen Richard Carpenter, Centralia, and Houston Antwine, Memphis, Tenn., who has lost 20 pounds during a recent bout with the flu.

Lynch and Brown are ticketed to start at guards, while John Abramovich, Haverhill, Mass., will hold down the center post.

Norwood will be at quarterback Shannon and either Hart or Randle Lewis, East St. Louis, at half.

11 Bradley Players Suffer from Flu

PEORIA, Ill. — Bradley was plagued with flu troubles for the second straight week.

Eleven Bradley players were reported suffering from respiratory illnesses Wednesday, slowing down workouts for its game with Drake University here Saturday night.

Last week, Bradley's battle with Omaha University was cancelled due to a flu outbreak on the Omaha squad. The Braves made last-minute arrangements to play Colorado State instead.

Coach Billy Stone said six of the sick squad members were regu-lars. A team spokesman said the illness hitting the squad, which received flu inoculations earlier, lasted two to three days.

Pat Boone Followers Feel Singer Will Become Bing Crosby of This Era

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (U.P.)—Pat Boone is a young man who wears white buckskin shoes, smiles a blinding white smile and says "Cooga Mooga" instead of "Gee Whizz."
He does not drink. He does not smoke. He does not swear. He does not tickle chorus girls or play the horses. He does not wiggle and as nearly as can be determined, his pelvis is no object of concern to his public.
His public is many.
"He's one of a kind," says Jack Spina, a manager of talent who has nursed young Boone with rapacious concern for almost three years. "The sky's the limit on his future. All of us around him feel he will become the Bing Crosby of this era."
Boone, for the benefit of those out of earshot of this world, is a singer. Less than three years ago, Charles Eugene Boone (he was nicknamed Pat by his parents, who wanted a girl Patricia) was working his way through North Texas State Teachers College, singing on a Fort Worth station for $50 a week.
He has progressed considerably since that time.
Today Boone's personal historians credit him with selling more than 15 million records. It is reported that Boone has 300 fan clubs, numbered by 15,000 teen age chicks, a great portion of whom are benumbed with calf-love for their 23-year-old six foot one inch, 180-pound, square jawed, dimpled, brown haired, gleam-toothed, two-and-one-half octave range idol.
He has a seven-year contract with 20th Century Fox, out of which union has come two pictures. He also has a five year contract with ABC, a network that has developed a ravenous appetite this season for singers.
The movie contract is said to be a million-dollar one and the TV deal worth three million dollars, but it is customary in both industries to blot figures of this sort. Nevertheless there is no doubt that Boone is making money.
Tops His Rivals
He also is making friends. His half hour ABC-TV musical program comfortably out-Trendaxed the NBC-TV and CBS-TV opposition on its third TV outing this season. This despite the catch-penny aura that surrounds the show.
"My whole object is to make friends instead of bowling them over with big acts," is the way Boone puts it. "Coming into a living room is a kind of personal thing, a personal visit, even though the audience can't really reach out and touch you."
"I don't want to give them a circus like some other shows. I figure they're going to tune in the Pat Boone Show to see Pat Boone."
Boone has quicksilvered his way to fame. Born in Jacksonville, Fla., Boone showed an early bent for music, sports and studies. By the time he was 17, he was singing on his own radio show. Admires Arthur Godfrey
In 1953, young Boone tried out for the Ted Mack Amateur Hour, qualified, and went on to become a three time winner. He escalated to Arthur Godfrey's "Talent Scouts," won, and formed a one-and-a-half year association with Godfrey, a gentleman that Boone much admires.
However it was in February, 1955, at Dot Records, then a small but energetic label, that Boone really started moving on his career. The record company fed Boone a string of fairly inane tunes calculated to touch the fevered passions of adolescent record buyers and Boone was in. They included such nuggets as "Ain't That A Shame," "Long Tall Sally" and "Tutti Frutti."
It was at high school that Boone met Shirley Foley, daughter of country singer Red Foley. They eloped four years ago and their conjugal production line has turned out three daughters, 3, 2 and 1. They expect their fourth child in January.

Household Workers Covered by Social Security, Hill Says

Household workers, and other domestic employees who are paid $50 or more in a calendar quarter by one employer must be reported for Social Security coverage. E. Bishop Hill, Manager of the Harrisburg District Social Security office, said that many domestic workers and their employers erroneously believe that Social Security coverage is voluntary.
An employer of domestic help who neglects to report his employees, or who complies with his employee's request not to withhold Social Security taxes, leaves himself open for possible future tax collection and penalties imposed by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Mr. Hill said that many cases where domestic workers were not properly reported are found when the worker applies for Social Security benefits.
Under the Social Security law, domestic work was covered in 1951. In 1955, rules for Social Security coverage in this type of work were relaxed, making it easier for domestics to earn retirement credits. Mr. Hill said the employer of domestic help who pays his employee $50 or more in a calendar quarter, must make a report of the employee's work and wages at the end of the quarter to the District Director of Internal Revenue. The report is made on forms obtained from the Internal Revenue office. With the report, the employer submits a check for the total amount of Social Security taxes due for the quarter on the employee's wages. This tax is 4 1/2% of the employer's payroll. Half the tax, 2 1/4%, may be withheld from the employee's wages.
Domestic workers in farm households are reported in the same way as farm labor. Normally, these reports are made at the end of the year. Domestics on farms must be reported by their employers if they are paid $150 or more during the calendar year, or if they work for 20 days or more for one employer, and are paid on a time basis.
Mr. Hill pointed out that household workers or employers of such workers can obtain information on the Social Security coverage of household help by writing to the Harrisburg Social Security office.

Average Family 90 Days from Bankruptcy

By ALFRED LEECH
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO — Here it is National Thrift Week and the average American family is about three months away from bankruptcy.

This dim view of family finances comes from Helen White, executive secretary of the National Thrift Committee, and Jack Olson, an insurance executive.

Then comments were based on a recent survey conducted by leading insurance companies on the financial status of middle class Americans.

Olson, vice president in charge of the disability department of Combined Insurance Company of America, said the average family is "just 90 days from disaster," financially speaking.

From Pay Day to Pay Day

Miss White and Olson said few families accumulate a financial cushion to carry them beyond a three-month period if the breadwinner should lose his job or get sick.

"We're living from pay day to pay day," said Miss White.

She said this creates marital discord and tension and anxiety among the children.

"In many cases the family paycheck is tossed for a later date, the minute the breadwinner gets it," Olson said. "It's cashed or deposited, and the money must be paid out at once to cover bill and current subsistence."

"Families in this situation have a financial sword of Damocles hanging over them."

Each Family Needs Budget

Despite continuing inflation, Miss White and Olson said, there are concrete steps the average family can take to build savings.

Miss White said the first need is for a practical budget based on the obvious fact that "outgo must never exceed income."

"A business soon goes bankrupt if it isn't set up on a sound financial basis with adequate reserves set aside systematically for future emergencies," she said.

In like manner, a family should set aside a regular amount each pay day.

"The average family without adequate reserves in the form of savings in one kind or another faces the constant threat of bankruptcy in 10 to 12 weeks in the event of emergency," she said.

Democrats Map Plans for 1958

SPRINGFIELD (CP)—Downstate Democratic leaders today were back in their home precincts preparing for next year's political battles after meeting here to map plans for the 1958 congressional campaign.

Thor Missile Is Launched

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced that a 1,500-mile range Thor missile was launched successfully today at the test center at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

A Defense spokesman said no details of the firing were available immediately, but were expected shortly.

The Thor, developed by the Air Force, is in a race with the Army's Jupiter for selection as the nation's first 1,500-mile range military rocket.

A Jupiter was fired from Cape Canaveral Tuesday night. The Pentagon said the Jupiter followed its set course and landed "in the pre-selected target area."

Centralia Schools Hit by Flu

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP)—School officials said today flu and colds have caused the heaviest absenteeism in 10 years at Centralia.

More than 300 of Centralia high school's 1,600 students were out Wednesday. At the junior college and grade schools, about 12 percent of the students have been affected.

Rites Friday for Franklin Proctor

The body of Franklin D. Proctor, 19, who died while stationed in Newfoundland with the U. S. Navy, arrived in Shawneetown today and was received by the Wright funeral home, where it will lie in state until the funeral at 2 p. m. Friday.

The funeral time has been changed from Sunday to Friday, but the services will be held as originally planned in the Liberty church, west of Harrisburg, with Rev. Paul Frick officiating and burial in the church cemetery.

Mr. Proctor was the son of Mrs. Harold Mitchell, Shawneetown and Charles Proctor, Alton, who survive.

State Patrolman Fatally Injured

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Harry Bradley, 32, a state patrolman, was injured fatally early today in a traffic accident.

Police said Bradley, of Lawrenceville, was following a state police car in his auto. They said taxicab backed onto a street and that Bradley swerved his car.

Bradley's car jumped a curb and overturned. He was thrown out of the car and died about seven hours later in Lawrence County hospital.

The taxicab driver, Ernie Pero, was not held.

U. S. Fires Rocket 1,000-4,000 Miles Up

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy to announce personally.

This and other newly-announced U. S. weapons developments were sure to be greeted by President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan as good omens in their talks aimed at blue-printing ways to win the East-West race for scientific-military supremacy.

The Defense Department confirmed Wednesday night, after the Los Angeles Examiner "broke" the story, the launching had taken place Monday.

It was expected the rocket would disintegrate along with all its instruments upon re-entering the earth's atmosphere. Its fate was not known however. Meanwhile data from its instruments was radioed to earth in coded "teletext" messages Monday. This is what scientists are now evaluating on the West Coast.

Announcement of results of the evaluation is expected to be made here.

In its terse statement the Defense Department said only that it "confirmed the successful firing Oct. 21. Extensive data was obtained. It is not yet evaluated. We hope it will be ready by noon Friday. We cannot confirm or deny any figures used."

According to advance data, the Farside rocket weighed 1,900 pounds when it left the balloon platform. This compares with a 22,600-pound initial weight for the Vanguard rocket which will attempt to boost a U. S. earth satellite into place next March.

Oil Drilling Permit

Hal S. Lobree, 3 Court Building, Evansville, has been granted an oil well drilling permit for the Jess Florida No. 1, SE 1/4 NE 1/4, 20 85-56 (Brushy).

Committee met here Wednesday and promptly predicted that 1958 would be a Democratic year.

State Chairman James A. Ronan said the "trend" is running for the Democrats in 1958, particularly because of farm unrest, and criticism of cutbacks in defense and a "misguided missile" program.

As for the Illinois congressional delegation, Ronan said, Democrats believe there is a chance of unseating GOP congressmen Sid Simpson of Carrollton and Charles W. Vursell of Salem.

Vursell is from the 23rd Congressional District; Simpson from the 29th. Both have served in Congress since 1942.

Ronan said the Democrats felt their three downstate congressmen, Peter F. Mack of Carlinville, Melvin Price of East St. Louis, and Kenneth Gray of West Frankfort, were "safe" for the 1958 election.

Hoffa Denied Delay for Trials

NEW YORK (AP)—Teamster Leader James R. Hoffa lost his plea today for a long delay of his perjury and wire-tap trials.

Federal Judge William B. Herlands denied motions to postpone the trials.

"The newly-elected, still unseated, head of the Teamsters Brotherhood, had claimed that he was the victim of a 'unparalleled attack' in the press, radio and television which would deny him the right of a fair and impartial jury if he was to be tried on those charges now."

Judge Herlands, in denying the motions, pointed out there was nothing to show that "he would not continue to be a public controversial figure in the future." Should the questioning of prospective jurors indicate that an unbiased panel could not be selected, he could then move for a continuance, the judge added.

Sen. Mansfield Asks Subsidies to Educate Scientists

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP)—Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) urged the government today to subsidize the education of young scientists who agree to help it gain supremacy in the race to outer space.

Conceding that his proposal would be denounced as "socialism" by some, Mansfield said: "I call it survival . . . We must face up to the facts of life."

The senator, addressing an education association convention here, also called for:

—Appointment of a secretary for research and development with Cabinet status to assume direct control of all scientific projects relating to missiles, rockets and outer space.

—Full cooperation with scientists of Western Europe in the race for nuclear and space superiority.

—Sharply upgrade the Army's Redstone missile which, he said, is "at the bottom of the missile totem pole despite the fact that it is the only real advance in the missile field."

State Department's No. 2 Official Greeter Is Fired

WASHINGTON (AP)—Victor Purse, State Department deputy chief of protocol, was booted out of his job Wednesday. There was a suspicion it was because he came back from New York aboard President Eisenhower's plane while his boss came via commercial airline.

Purse, who helped escort Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip during their recent visit here, was notified he was being relieved as the government's number two official greeter of foreign dignitaries.

There were reports his chief, Wiley T. Buchanan Jr., asked that Purse be relieved soon after he saw his deputy get off the President's plane Columbine III when the Chief Executive returned from New York Wednesday morning.

Fatally Injured At Effingham

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP)—Charles Pearson, about 70, Palatine, was fatally injured early today when struck by an automobile on U. S. 40 at Effingham.

Edith Gabriel, 24, Brooklyn, N. Y., told authorities she was driving east through the heavy rain when she felt the impact of her car striking an object. She said she stopped to investigate and saw Pearson lying on the road. Pearson was taken to St. Anthony Memorial Hospital, where he died.

ROMANCE IN THE PUMPKIN PATCH—This romantic "couple" is part of the sales force employed by Lawrence Hunkin to push the sale of pumpkins on his farm at Kirtland Township, near Cleveland, Ohio. They attract passersby, and so far the sale has been good, Hunkin reports. The pumpkin-headed lovers are the creation of Mrs. Hunkin who has a sharp eye for detail, even down to the crab-apple corsage on the lady pumpkin's frock. The pair is stuffed with cornstalks, kept upright by broom handles.

MARION, Ill. (AP)—A hospital diagnosis cost Buford Johnson a $15 fine in police court today.

Police said a neighbor called an ambulance after thinking Johnson was ill. Johnson was taken to the hospital where a doctor diagnosed the case as intoxication.

Flu Hits One Out Of Three at SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Flu and related ailments have affected one of every three students on the Carbondale-Southern acres campus of Southern Illinois University, Dr. Richard Lee, health service director, said today.

This meant that more than 2,000 of the total enrollment of 6,444 have been hit by the flu.

The spread of the flu prompted SIU officials to call off classes Friday and Saturday.

A scheduled Sunday afternoon concert was cancelled.

Dr. P. C. Steck, superintendent of the Anna State Hospital at Anna, requested that visitors stay away from the hospital unless they are invited.

He said there have been no Asian flu cases yet at the hospital and that all patients and employees are being given shots.

All hospital group activities have been cancelled.

Illness among players at the El Dorado and Cairo high schools caused postponement of a football game scheduled Friday night until Nov. 11.

The move by the military came after riotous crowds threatened to turn the streets of Guatemala into a battleground.

Somebody Hooked The Bedclothes

ELKHART, Ind. (AP)—Mrs. Yvonne Bellamy, Elkhart, woke up to a startling sight one night recently. The covers on her bed were "floating" out a nearby window.

An investigation by her husband, Harold, showed the covers hanging partly out the window of the first floor bedroom had a hook of wire fastened to them. Some one had apparently hooked the wire onto the covers and started to pull them out the window while Mrs. Bellamy was sleeping.

The fourth Sunday Autumn Color Tour along the Trigg Memorial Ozark Trail will be held next Sunday, Oct. 27, the caravan assembling at the intersection of Routes 45, 145 and 34, southeast of Harrisburg, at 10 a. m. CST. Leaders on this tour will be L. A. Dearinger, Art LaSalle, and A. G. Packwood, all of Mt. Vernon.

The main objective on the tour will be the Garden of the Gods, 7 1/2 miles east of Herod in Saline county. Weather and roads permitting, it is likely that there will be little time to visit other historic and scenic sites along the Trigg Trail, as recent exploration in the Garden of the Gods has revealed added areas of equal interest to those previously explored. On Sunday's tour side trips will originate at the Anvil Rock, each trip being conducted by a competent leader. Also at the Anvil Rock luncheon will be eaten, and worship services held.

If roads are bad, other sites adjacent to the Trigg Memorial Trail will be visited.

All making the tour should bring their own food and water, and should wear shoes with rubber or fiber soles.

Louis E. Aaron of Harrisburg, a leader on last Sunday's tour, reports as follows on the October 20th trip:

"Our tour was a grand success. Forty-one cars left the intersection of Routes 34 and 45. Twelve more joined at Bell Smith Springs and others at Hays Canyon. We can safely say there were fifty-five cars.

"Everything was carried out according to the program except that we were exactly one hour late reaching Hays Canyon, loss of time was in trying to maneuver such a large crowd.

"Coy King of Eddyville and Paul Hatfield helped John Foster and me at Hays Canyon.

"Our religious service was very impressive and and Rev. Erastus Barger of Eddyville gave a short appropriate talk.

"Everyone introduced himself; Lowell Dearinger announced next Sunday's tour; Mr. Killian announced a tour at Ava on Nov. 3; and Mr. King one at Eddyville Nov. 10.

"Many expressed their appreciation for a beautiful, well planned tour for which we were thankful."

Home Quarantined, Mother Leaves 20th, 21st Children in Hospital

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Alonzo Williams, 41, who recently gave birth to her 20th and 21st children, decided against taking them home with her when she left Grant Hospital Tuesday.

It seems that 10 of her children still at home are quarantined with whooping cough.

Facts About Asian Influenza

(By U. S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare)

Influenza has been known for centuries under a variety of names but except for the pandemic of 1918 the illness was regarded lightly.

Over the past 25 years certain strains of Type A virus and Type B virus have been the causative agents of cyclic outbreaks of influenza.

The current epidemic in the Far East and sporadic outbreaks in the United States and elsewhere are caused by a new strain of Type A virus known as the Asian strain.

There is a distinct probability that the current influenza epidemic will increase and may develop into pandemic proportions by late fall or winter. It has already touched on every continent. There is also the possibility of an increase in virulence of the at present mild infection.

A properly constituted vaccine containing the new strain of Type A virus has been developed. It represents the only preventive tool at our command. Six manufacturers licensed to produce it, are working on accelerated production schedules.

Influenza vaccines have been used effectively and safely in controlled studies conducted by the military services.

The Public Health Service in cooperation with the State and Federal Health Officers Association and the American Medical Association is promoting a nationwide voluntary program of vaccination against the prevalent strain of influenza.

Outbreaks of influenza have attracted attention for centuries. The disease has been known through the ages under a variety of names — (the jolly rant, gallant's disease, "the fashionable illness" and more recently as the flu, or the virus.

Sudden appearance and widespread involvement of all ages and kinds of people have always been characteristic of the illness.

Unusual features accompanying the current epidemic of Asian influenza have reawakened interest in events just preceding the 1918-19 holocaust. It has been estimated that there were 20 million cases of influenza and pneumonia in the United States in 1918-19 with approximately 850,000 deaths.

The current epidemic was first reported in Hong Kong and Singapore during the latter half of April 1957. Then in rapid succession, epidemics occurred in Taiwan, the Philippines, the Malay States, Japan, India, and other areas.

Clinically influenza is usually characterized by abrupt onset, prostration, fever as high as 104 degrees, headache, myalgia, cough and sore throat.

Even when considered mild in terms of fatality, influenza epidemics cannot be regarded as innocuous. Illnesses usually are protracted for two or more days and are often followed by a period of lassitude and weakness.

Ila Milligan of Parker's Attends Frigidaire Showing

Ila Milligan, appliance manager at the Lloyd L. Parker's furniture store, attended the showing of the new 1958 Frigidaire home appliances in St. Louis Tuesday. The Golden Anniversary models, celebrating 50 years of General Motors production, has a subtle refinement in Frigidaire's classic sheer look plus a wide variety of conveniences and two new colors.

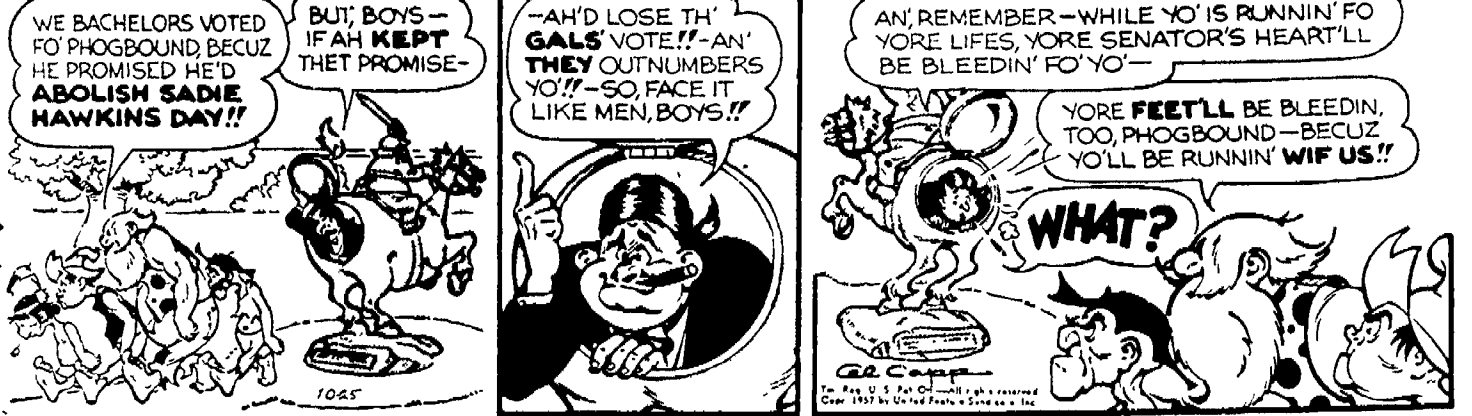

New ranges with amazing "spatter free" broiler grill and refrigerators with Frigidaire-pioneered "flowing cold" cooling system will highlight these new 1958 Frigidaire products.

New free standing appliances are now available in new turquoise and sunny yellow as well as charcoal gray, pink and white. Built-in appliances also come in these colors.

Mr. Milligan said that these new appliances will be shown at the Lloyd L. Parker's Furniture Store sometime in November. The date will be announced later.

"Pink Eyes"

In albinos, the eyes are pink because of the lack of black pigment causing the blood of the tiny vessels of the eye to show through the transparent parts of the eye. In normal eyes, the pink color is hidden by the color of the iris.

ENTERS QUILT IN NATIONWIDE CROCHET CONTEST—More than 75,000 feet of crochet thread was used in making this beautiful Marguerite Pattern quilt that required 1,300 hours of the time of Mrs. E. V. Phillips of Shawneetown.

Mrs. Phillips, who won a blue ribbon and cash award with her fancy quilt at the Effingham County fair held at Altamont last summer, became eligible for the nationwide contest and is all set on copping a prize.

Although there are numerous prizes to be awarded by the National Needlecraft Bureau, Inc., of New York City, the grand national prize is a free trip to New York City and Bermuda for two, plus $1,000 in cash.

THE STORY: Sarah and Tom Gillespie visit the home occupied last year by Grant Melville, the painter believed to have been murdered. While they are there, Miss Crystabel Dolwin enters and examines some paintings, including a mutilated canvas.

Lieutenant Carney might have been made of wood for all the reaction he showed.

"You last saw this man Dennert on Friday night, making for a Boston train. When you drove up here to your aunt's house on Saturday you had no idea that Dennert was coming to Cornwall."

She said gently, "Neither Mr. Gillespie nor I had the slightest notion of where Mr. Dennert was bound for."

"And Mr. Gillespie — did you know when he left you Friday night that he was coming to Cornwall?"

She explained that Tom had come at Mrs. Melville's suggestion, made later on Friday night, after she and Tom had parted. Mrs. Melville had suggested that the cottage up here in the hills where Grant Melville had done a lot of painting might be a good starting place for the biography — he had a number of friends here.

Sarah had a flash of Tom peering through the window of the pink room in the dusk, bent forward in a crouching attitude. . . She said that they met outside on the terrace, that Tom had walked down over the hills in the direction of the village and taken a shortcut thru the grounds.

"Mr. Gillespie was surprised to see you, Miss Casement, and you were surprised to see him?"

There she could answer wholeheartedly, Tom had been as stunned as she was.

It occurred to her at that point that she didn't know where in the house Dennert had been killed, or how. She asked.

Lieutenant Carney said, "We think he was killed here in this living room, over there on the hearth in front of the fireplace."

He explained that there were traces of what would probably turn out to be blood in cracks between the bricks.

Most of it had been wiped up but a residue remained. Dennert had been struck repeatedly with a heavy weapon, such as a piece of iron piping or a club of some sort, and his head bashed in. They didn't know exactly when the attack had taken place. Dennert had left the bus at the state road about 12:40.

Dennert must have come into the stone house at around five minutes after one. He hadn't gone past Carlotta and Steven's or Mr. Sproul's; Carlotta and Sproul were both working around outside and neither of them had seen him. That meant that Dennert could have been killed at any time between a little after one o'clock and shortly before 4:30, when Sarah arrived. The body had been rolled in the striped blanket and carried up to the end chamber for removal later, after dark, and the place cleaned up. The killer hadn't quite finished his work when Carlotta and Sarah came in, and had made his escape through the front door. That night Dennert's body had been thrown into the deepest part of the pond from a boat.

There was a sound of voices outside and Tom walked in. He was bewildered, at sea. He ignored

Fox, Mantle Unanimous Selections To American League All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Nelson Fox, who's hit a total of 25 home runs in 11 big league seasons, and Mickey Mantle, who's hit that many in half a campaign, were the only unanimous picks on the United Press 1957 American League All-Star team.

The team, selected by a 24-man committee of three baseball writers from each city in the league, also included catcher Yogi Berra and shortstop Gil McDougald of

the Yankees, first baseman Vic Wertz of the Indians, third baseman Frank Malzone and outfielder Ted Williams of the Red Sox, outfielder Roy Sievers of the Senators, pitcher Jim Bunning of the Tigers and Fox' White Sox teammate, pitcher Billy Pierce.

The Baltimore Orioles and Kansas City Athletics were the only teams not represented on a squad that averages 30 years of age per man. The eight regulars hit a total of 200 home runs this year and both pitchers hit the 20-victory total on the nose.

In Fox and Mantle, the writers honored perhaps the two key men in an American League pennant race that quickly developed into a two-team fight between the White Sox and Yankees.

Fox, a 5-foot, 9-inch, 155-pounder from St. Thomas, Pa., typified the White Sox' season-long struggle to out-hustle and out-fight a Yankee team that was superior in both front-line personnel and depth. A fighter all the way, Fox played in all 155 of his team's games, led the league with 196 hits and batted .317 — fifth best average in the circuit.

Mantle, of course, was the Yankees' "big stick." He batted .365 and hit 34 homers despite the fact he was walked 146 times. The youngest regular on the team at 26, Mantle is a strong candidate to win his second straight most valuable player award.

School of Practical Nurses Visits Dairy

The Harrisburg School of Practical Nursing enjoyed a tour of the Harrisburg Dairy, Monday, under the direction of Roy Thompson. Some of the most practical pointers observed was the preparation of ice cream for distribution, the bottling and pasteurization of milk. There were other interesting experiences for the group, accompanied by Mrs. Louise Cothran. Dixie cups were served for refreshment.
